STANDARD OIL IS PLACED ON TRIAL

Rockefeller Will Not Be in Court During Hearing at Findlay.

HAS SEPARATE TRIAL

Jury Is Obtained to Try Big Trust in Little Over an Hour and Battle Is Now On.

Findlay, O., Oct. 9.—The Standard Oil company of Ohio was put on trial here today charged with conspiracy against trade in violation of the state anti-trust laws. The penalty prescribed is a fine of from $50 to $5,000, or from six to twelve months' imprisonment.

John D. Rockefeller was originally a party to the suit, but was granted a separate trial, the date of which will depend on the success of the state in the present proceedings.

It is said Mr. Rockefeller will not be a witness and will not attend the trial.

The Buckeye Pipe Line company and Manhattan Oil company, both state corporations, which are also defendants, have secured separate trials.

Not a hundred persons were present when the court convened. Wade H. Ellis, attorney general of Ohio, and O. E. Harrison, of his office, were present to aid the prosecution. The work of selecting the jury began without delay. Prosecutor David accepted the first twelve men drawn. Attorney Kline, for the Standard Oil company, however, had the court excuse three of the twelve on their statement that they had formed an opinion in the case.

A jury was secured in the first hour and forty minutes of the trial. Twenty-one talesmen were examined. A recess was then taken until this afternoon. Judge Banker cautioned the jury to talk to no one regarding the case and to report to the court any attempt to talk to them.

ACTION AGAINST BRIDGE TRUST.

Bellefontaine, Ohio, Oct. 9.—Attorney General Ellis' action against the alleged bridge trust was brought to issue in the Logan county circuit court today. The state asks for an ouster order and the appointment of receivers to take over the affairs of the thirteen defendants. All the companies have filed general denials of the charges, contest the jurisdiction of the court and argue that if any violation has been committed it comes under the federal Sherman law.

TRUE BILLS IN SUGAR REBATE.

New York, Oct. 9.—Eight indictments in the so-called sugar rebate case were handed down by the October federal grand jury, which completed its labor today. The indictments were found earlier in the year but were never officially reported until today. The indictments were against the American Sugar Refining company, the American Sugar Refining company of New York, and C. Goodlowe and Edwin Earle for receiving rebates from the New York Central Railroad company, against the Western Transit company for giving rebates to the Sugar Refining and the American Sugar Refining company of New York against the American Sugar Refining company of New York for receiving rebates from the Western Transit company, against the Delaware, Lackawana and Western Railroad company.

YOUNG VETERANS SEEN IN PARADE

PAGEANT AT WASHINGTON IS BIG FEATURE OF THE DAY.

United Spanish War Veterans Ratify Amalgamation With New England Legion.

Washington, Oct. 9.—The feature of the encampment and reunion of the United Spanish War Veterans today was the annual parade which was held this afternoon. The pageant was an imposing one, and it traversed a long line of march through the central portions of the city.

The principal business at the forenoon session was the ratification of the amalgamation of the Legion of Spanish-American War Veterans of Massachusetts and New Hampshire, numbering approximately 500 men, with the United Spanish War Veterans.

The organization by unanimous vote placed itself on record as favoring the restoration of the army canteen. The matter will be urged before congress next winter by the national legislative committee of the United Spanish war veterans to be located in this city.

DIVINE HEALER COMING.

It is announced that Schlatter, the divine healer, will arrive in the city this evening for a brief visit with Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Haines, 728 Columbia avenue. Mr. Schlatter will be accompanied by his wife. They visited Fort Wayne seven years ago.

COUNCIL MEET TONIGHT.

Number of Important Matters Up for Discussion.

The city council will hold its regular bi-monthly meeting tonight and among the matters that will be submitted is a franchise allowing the Pennsylvania to lay a third track through the city. The contract has been signed by the board of public works.

The Nickel Plate has asked permission to put down another track across Harrison street and this will be submitted. The report of the committees against paying the former officials their salaries [illegible] will also be filed.

THURSDAY, OCT. 25 IS DATE SELECTED

FOR TAKING RELIGIOUS CENSUS OF FORT WAYNE.

Special Committee of Five Ministers Named to Arrange Details of Unique Visitation.

Thursday afternoon, October 25, from 1 to 5 o'clock, is the date chosen by the pastors of the various denominations for a house to house visitation of Fort Wayne to secure a religious census of the city. At the meeting of the Ministerial association yesterday a hearty vote was taken endorsing the project, and a committee of five, of which Rev. Henry B. Master is chairman, was appointed to take charge of the detail matters in connection with the visitation. Other members of the committee are Rev. J. V. Vichert, Rev. M. F. Rickoff, Rev. R. L. Semans and Rev. D. E. Zechiel, who met yesterday afternoon with the chairman and made the selection of a date for the work.

A general chairman of the work is also being selected, and district directors will also be chosen. A. H. Cross, of Cleveland, who will engineer the visitation, will begin active work on Thursday.

The visitations will be under the auspices of the churches of the city, and the questions to be asked will include the number of persons in each family attending Sunday school, the number in each family who are communicant church members and the church preferred, and also the number of each family and the number under 16 years of age.

What Work Signifies.

Briefly stated, a house visitation is an organized, co-operative effort made on one afternoon by the churches and Sunday schools in a community, for the purpose of extending a cordial invitation to non-church-goers to attend some church, and by means of a simple record indicated above, make a vital connection between the non-church-goer and the church he prefers.

At first thought one wonders if each home in a city can be reached in an afternoon, but experience shows that it can be accomplished. Plans for doing the work are as follows: The movement is supervised by the various pastors in this city, directed by a general chairman, executed by a district committee of sixteen and announced by press and pulpit. The 350 visitors will give their services, and are to be selected from the churches, Sunday schools and Young Peoples' societies, and after instructions from printed matter and public meeting, they will be distributed between the sixteen districts to report at 1 o'clock on Thursday, October 25, at central headquarters in each district, and from there be assigned by the district chairman to the exact territory to be visited—comprising from thirty to forty-five homes. When the work is completed the cards will be distributed to the various pastors preferred, thus enabling each church to go directly to those they can most easily reach. Many other cities have proved that beyond question time, energy and expense can be greatly economized, denominational friction reduced to a minimum, and the most satisfactory results obtained from these plans for an interdenominational, one-afternoon canvass.

The pastors are already beginning to select visitors who will do the work, and it is believed there will be a general response.

DRASTIC LAWS ARE TO BE PROMOTED

STATE CHARITIES CONFERENCE AGREES ON PROGRAM.

Effective Method of Dealing With Rapists, Degenerates and Confirmed Criminals.

Muncie, Ind., Oct. 9.—As the result of the meeting of the state conference of charities bills will be introduced this winter providing for a state colony for treatment of consumptives, the creation of state workhouses, for the suspension of sentence against first offenders, for juvenile courts in each county, for the sterilization of all persons guilty of criminal assaults, degenerates or confirmed criminals and changing the minimum indeterminate sentence from one to eight years instead of from one to three.

TAKE TRIP WESTWARD.

Traction Officials Left This Afternoon on Inspection Tour.

President J. Levering Jones and Henry Rainey, of Philadelphia, with other officials of the Fort Wayne and Wabash Valley Traction company, left the city this afternoon in a special interurban car for an inspection of the Wabash Valley lines to Logansport. From that city they will drive over the Lafayette extension which is now in process of construction.

ENDS LIFE WITH PISTOL.

N. R. Hart, Prominent Connecticut Lawyer, Found Dead in His Office.

Stamford, Conn., Oct. 9.—Nathaniel R. Hart, a prominent lawyer in this city, was found dead in his office today, having shot himself. Mr. Hart was formerly assistant United States district attorney, and was about 55 years old.

PATROLMAN TO RETIRE.

Patrolman Henry Reichard, who has been on night duty in the police department for several months, will tender his resignation to the board of public safety tonight and take a place at the Pennsylvania shops. He was formerly day patrol driver and has made a faithful officer since he became a member of the force.

The members of the Ka-Margo club will be entertained this evening by George Braun at his home in Wallen.

SENSATION FAILS IN ADAMS INQUEST

Coroner Declared the Late Policy King Had Been Murdered.

FAILED TO SHOW IT

Jury Said Suicide, Notwithstanding Coroner's Startling Announcement Before Inquest.

New York, Oct. 9.—Albert J. Adams, the former "policy king," who was found dead in his apartments, committed suicide. A verdict to this effect was returned by a coroner's jury today after a brief session which opened with every promise of developing a series of startling sensations.

That Adams, who was found dead in his rooms in the Hotel Ansonia, was murdered was the belief of Coroner Harburger, as expressed at the opening of the inquest into Adams' death today. The coroner said also that he was convinced that his investigation would reveal evidence to show that the murderer was a prominent witness at the inquest.

At the conclusion of the inquest the coroner's jury returned a verdict that Adams came to his death from suicide.

In his closing address to the jury Coroner Harburger said that all the evidence pointed conclusively to suicide. "I have my own opinion on the subject," he said, "but we must go by the evidence presented here." On suggestion of Judge Olicott the coroner withdrew his opening remarks.

PRACTICAL JOKE ENDS TRAGICALLY

WEST VIRGINIA MAN FATALLY SHOT BY WIFE.

Woman Shoots Herself—Mayor Went to Gate to Meet Friend Rigged Out in Woman's Clothes.

Hinton, W. Va., Oct. 9.—As the result of a practical joke good-naturedly purposed to cure his wife of inordinate jealousy, Charles Smith, mayor of the little town of Brooklyn, near here, is believed to be dying and Mrs. Smith is also probably fatally wounded.

Smith had Elbert Meddley, a friend, dress up as a woman and call him out to the gate. As the two men stood there engaged in an apparently animated and confidential conversation, Mrs. Smith, wrought to a high pitch of frenzy by jealousy, got a revolver and shot her husband twice, once through the stomach and once through the lung. The woman then shot herself.

REAL SECRET OF SULTAN'S ILLNESS

ABDUL HAMID WAS SHOT IN ABDOMEN BY WOMAN.

Elevation of New Favorite of the Harem Roused Jealousy of Turkish Woman.

Paris, Oct. 9.—A dispatch from Constantinople declares that the real secret of the recent illness of the Sultan of Turkey was that he was shot in the abdomen by a Turkish woman who was jealous of the latest favorite in his harem, a beautiful Circassian girl. According to the story the bullet was extracted.

SHOWS LITTLE CHANGE.

Representative Rockwood Hoar, of Massachusetts, Very Ill.

Worcester, Mass., Oct. 9.—There was but little change during the night in the condition of Representative Rockwood Hoar, who continues very seriously ill at his home in this city.

MUST USE A JAP NAME

Or Americans Cannot Ship Goods Over Mikado's Railroad.

New Chwang, Oct. 9.—The Japanese authorities here have refused to allow an American company to ship goods over the railway unless a Japanese name is used.

BLAZE WAS MYSTERIOUS.

It Attacked Top of Chamber of Commerce Building at Los Angeles.

Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 9.—Fire which broke out mysteriously in the topmost room of the chamber of commerce building early today raged furiously before it was quelled. The fire caused a damage estimated at $100,000.

BLAME OFFICERS FOR MUTINY.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 9.—The commissions appointed by Emperor Nicholas to investigate the causes of the Sveaborg and Cronstadt mutinies have found that the blame was largely attributable to the negligence and inefficiency of the officers. It is considered probable that several of the latter will be tried by court-martial as a result of the investigation.

WILLIAM R. HEARST ILL.

New York, Oct. 9.—William R. Hearst, democratic and independent league candidate for governor is ill at his home in this city with a severe cold. Mr. Hearst expects however, to be able to address a meeting of the independent league in Westchester county, tomorrow evening.

COMMISSIONERS AT COMING ELECTION

JUDGE AIKEN AND WILMER LEONARD ARE NAMED.

With County Clerk They Will Canvass Vote Under New Law—Notes in Political Circles.

Judge John H. Aiken and Wilmer Leonard, representing respectively the democratic and the republican parties, have been appointed as election commissioners to serve at the November election, and they, together with County Clerk Johnson, will constitute the board which will canvass the returns from the various precincts of the county. This will be the first general election under the new law, and mode of procedure is precisely the same as that followed at the city election a year ago.

The new order of things takes the place of the cumbersome election board of former years, when all the inspectors were required to be present as a board of canvassers and tabulate the returns. Under the new arrangements the election officials will simply certify the returns to the board of election commissioners, who will tabulate the result and issue election certificates.

* * *

In the local campaign this year the old-time political speech has given way to a new form of political activity which is announced as a "social gathering," where cigars are passed around and the voters mingle together and talk it over informally. No speakers are announced in advance, but it is planned to have a number of ready talkers on hand and the public will not suffer from a lack of spell-binding. The first of these meetings in the city was held last evening by the republicans in the Mattes blacksmith shop at Calhoun and Williams streets, where about all the republican candidates were on hand and talked briefly to a crowd that numbered perhaps 150 voters. The meetings are called by means of postal cards addressed to the voters individually. Within a short time the democrats will inaugurate a series of similar meetings in the city. Several have already been held in the country districts.

* * *

Democratic County Chairman E. G. Hoffman delivered a political address at a meeting at Huntington this afternoon. He will return early this evening.

* * *

The republican congressional nomination for the short term will be made at a convention to be held in the court house assembly room Thursday afternoon. It will undoubtedly go to Mr. Gilhams.

* * *

Among township nominations made by the republicans are the following:

Adams Township—Justices of the peace, Joseph Richert and James Bird; constables, Harmon Lewis and Roy Gebert. Advisory board—Fred Fruechtenicht, Henry Doctor, William Baker.

Scipio Township—Justice of the peace, Charles Roberts; constable, John Langham; advisory board, Leonard Dorsey, James Pearson, Morton Spitler.

FOUND NO NATURAL CAUSES FOR DEATH

MEDICAL TESTIMONY IN TRIAL OF DR. FRANK BROUWER.

Jury Secured to Try New Jersey Physician Accused of the Murder of His Wife.

Toms River, N. J., Oct. 9.—The evidence which the prosecution proposes to introduce in the effort to prove that Dr. Frank Brouwer murdered his wife that he might be free to marry another woman, was outlined by the public prosecutor when the murder trial was resumed today.

The whole of yesterday was consumed in drafting a panel of jurors to hear the evidence and decide the prisoner's fate.

When Dr. Brouwer appeared in court today to face his accusers he appeared little affected by the months which he has spent behind the bars awaiting the opening of his trial.

A neighbor who was present when Mrs. Brouwer died and an undertaker who exhumed her body were the first witnesses. Dr. Henry Cattrell, of Philadelphia, one of the two doctors who held the autopsy, testified that it had shown no natural causes for death. He said the death might have resulted from arsenical poisoning.

Prof. Frederick Genth, a Philadelphia chemist, testified that he had examined and made a chemical analysis of the organs taken from Mrs. Brouwer's body. In the liver he found strong traces of arsenic and in the intestines he found a quantity of ground glass.

FATE OF MEN UNKNOWN.

Fourteen in Crews of Lake Steamers Are Missing.

Hancock, Mich., Oct. 9.—The barges Wayne and Foster were cut adrift during last night's gale by the steamer Bart and today are on the shore of Lake Superior, fourteen miles above the portage lake ship canal. Nothing is yet known of the fate of the fourteen men who were on the two boats. The life-saving crew has gone to the wrecks.

BEGIN MATCH PLAY.

Women Golfers Resume Work Under Milder Weather.

West Newton, Mass., Oct. 9.—Milder weather and a much lighter breeze than prevailed yesterday greeted the thirty-two survivors of the preliminary round of the Woman's National golf championship tournament when they came out on the links today for the first round of the match play.

BIRCHMANS GIVE OFFICER BATTLE

Refuse to Let Him Serve Writ and Use Ax and Acid to Prevent Him.

CONSTABLE INJURED

Husband Charged With Grave Offense and Wife Must Answer a Serious Charge.

John Birchman and his wife, who reside in Washington township north of the city, made a vicious attack at their home on Constable O. H. Lilley last Thursday and as a result both were arrested by the sheriff today.

The husband is charged with assault and battery with intent to commit murder and the wife is charged with plain assault and battery and both gave bond for their appearance.

Lilley held an execution against Birchman and on Thursday he and Horace Mariotte went out to levy on the personal property to satisfy it. As they entered the yard Birchman demanded to know their mission and when he was told by the officer that he wanted the money for which the execution was issued or he would be compelled to levy on his property.

"You'll not get the money and you will not touch the property and I give you just five minutes to get off the place or you will regret it," was the reply. With this Birchman entered the house, hooked the screen and shut the door.

Fixed Time Limit.

The constable told him he would give him two minutes to open the door and when the time was up the officer pulled the screen open and pushed the inner door. When he was about half way in Birchman struck at his head with an ax. He raised his arm and warded off the blow and received a severe injury to his left wrist. The husband raised the ax a second time but before he could bring it down Mrs. Birchman threw a cup of acid at the constable.

The contents struck the sleeve of his coat, which prevented it from reaching his eyes, or he would in all probability have been blinded as the acid ate the cuff of the coat sleeve and burned a number of holes in the front of the garment, rendering it unfit for wear.

Acid in His Face.

Small portions of the acid struck the constable on the upper lip, on his neck and in the corner of his right eye and each place it touched was badly burned. He wanted to serve the writ in spite of the resistance that had been offered him, but Mr. Mariotte took him to a physician to have his wounds treated.

The judgment under which the execution was issued against Birchman was rendered some time ago in Justice Tancey's court and at that time he filed a schedule indicating that he had no property and that everything on his place belonged to his wife.

This did not satisfy Mr. Mariotte and he executed an indemnifying bond and insisted upon having the execution served as the goods, according to his statement, had been purchased by Birchman and were being used by him. The date for the preliminary hearing of the case has not been set.

BOYS CALL FIRE DEPARTMENT OUT

FUNNY PRACTICE RESULTS IN ARREST OF TWO OFFENDERS.

Third Is Being Sought by Police and All Will Answer for Pulling the Boxes.

James Geary and August Laurent, seventeen years old, were placed under arrest this morning by Patrolman Dickson on the charge of turning in false alarms from a fire box on St. Mary's avenue and both confessed their guilt.

They implicated a third boy and the police have been looking for him this afternoon and will probably land him. Geary was released on a cash bond of $50 furnished by his father, William Geary, who is a horseshoer with a place of business on Harrison street.

A number of false alrms have been turned in from St. Mary's avenue which is at the extreme northwestern limit of the city and the run is a difficult one for the department on account of the unpaved streets. Saturday night a box was pulled and in responding one of the most valuable horses in the fire department was so badly injured that it was put out of service. This brought about an investigation by the police.

WHOLESALE DRUGGISTS MEET.

National Convention Is in Session at Washington.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 9.—With more than three hundred delegates in attendance, the thirty-second annual convention of the National Wholesale Druggists' association was begun in this city today.

CRUSHED TO DEATH.

Dr. Schrader has received word from Chicago friends that Van Rogers, aged sixteen years, who had lived in this city until about a year ago, was crushed to death in an elevator in that city last Wednesday. While a resident of Fort Wayne the young man attended the Hoagland school. His father, Herbert Rogers, was employed on a newspaper here.

BASE BALL EXTRA!

WHITE SOX WIN; SCORE IS 2 TO 1

American Leaguers Take First Game in Great Struggle for Baseball Supremacy of World

FRENZIED FANS CHEER THEIR FAVORITES

Chicago, Oct. 9.—The Chicago White Sox, champions of the American league league, won the first of the world's championship series on the National league grounds here this afternoon in a brilliant game played in chilly weather before over 25,000 wildly cheering fans who went into frenzies of joy at gains made by their favorites.

It was the first of a series of seven games to be played between the champions of the two major leagues, both of which teams brought the respective pennants of their organizations to this city.

Every effort had been made for the accommodation of record breaking attendance. A strong detail of police was placed at the National League park, where the first game was played today and every available inch of space was to be used for the accommodation of spectators.

The weather was cloudy and dark with a strong breeze from the north. A slight snow fell shortly after eleven o'clock. The batting order for the leagues is as follows:

American League—	National League—
Hahn, rf.	Hoffman, cf.
Jones, cf.	Sheckard, lf.
Isbell, 2b.	Schulte, rf.
Rohe, ss.	Chance, 1b.
Donohue, 1b.	Steinfeldt, 3b.
Dougherty, lf.	Tinker, ss.
Sullivan, c.	Evers, 2b.
Tannehill, 3b.	Kling, c.
Altrock, p.	Brown, p.

Crowd Gathered Early.

By noon there were 8,000 people in line in front of the ticket office. One noticeable feature was the presence of large numbers of women. As I every seat in the main grand stand was occupied and half the new boxes in front of the main stand was half filled.

A slight drizzling rain began and at times flakes of snow fell. The Nationals were the first to appear on the field for practice. They were greeted with cheers. It was officially announced that Geo. Davis, shortstop for the Americans, would not be in the game. He is suffering from a sore back and Manager Jones concluded to use Rohe instead. When the American league champions entered the grounds the reception they received was fully as enthusiastic as that accorded the Nationals. Ground rules were necessary on account of the crowd A hit into the crowd meant two bases, an overthrow into the crowd one base.

Brown for the Nationals and Altrock for the Americans were announced as the opposing pitchers. Kling and Sullivan were the catchers. Brown went into the pitcher's box and the game was on.

First Inning.

Hahn fanned; Jones hit fly to Hoffman; Isbell fanned; no runs.

Final Score.

Americans, 2; Nationals, 1.

PHOTOGRAPHERS IN OPENING SESSIONS

INDIANA ART LEAGUE HOLDS PRELIMINARY MEETING.

Home Portraiture in Residence of Clark Fairbank Most Interesting Feature of Day.

Between twenty and twenty-five members of the Indiana Photographic Art league were present this morning when the annual session of the organization convened in the G. J. Parrot art studio at 10 o'clock. The meetings today are principally for the purpose of preliminary work and getting acquainted, although several business matters will be disposed of late this afternoon.

In the morning the subject of making special studies under skylight was taken up by the photographers and a number of interesting and instructive experiments were made. Many of the members are experts in this line of work and they freely gave the others the benefit of their endeavors. The most interesting feature of the day was the making of home portraits in the residence of Clark Fairbank. This home portraiture is a recent innovation in photographic circles and it is thought that it is capable of a great deal of development. The object is to picture the members of a family in their home surroundings, amid their books, in their rooms and so forth. Wherever it has been tried this branch of the work has met with great success.

May Elect Officers.

At the business meeting late this afternoon it is quite possible that officers will be elected to take the place of the present officers who are C. W. Niswonger, of Muncie, president, and G. J. Parrot, of this city, secretary-treasurer.

Tonight Ben Larimer will address the league on "Ethics and Technique," and George Graham Hollaway will speak on "Making Home Portraiture a Paying Feature of the Regular Studio." Tomorrow the principal features will be home portraiture at the residence of J. H. Bass and the opening of the Parrot Art store to the public at 2:30.

SALOON MEN MAY APPLY A REMEDY

MINORS CAN BE FINED FOR MISREPRESENTING AGE.

Fine of Any Amount Between Ten and a Hundred Dollars Can Be Assessed on Conviction.

The laws passed by the last legislature afford saloon keepers protection against being fined for selling liquor to minors and it is likely that a movement will be inaugurated to prevent boys under twenty-one years of age from obtaining intoxicants over the bars and placing the dealers at the mercy of any who get drunk or are inclined to peach.

Section 576 of the statutes reads: "Whoever, being over the age of fourteen years and under the age of twenty-one years, shall misrepresent his age, and state that he is over twenty-one years of age, in order to purchase or procure spiritous, vinous, malt or other intoxicating liquors, shall, on conviction, be fined not less than ten dollars nor more than one hundred dollars."

This places a weapon in the hands of local saloon keepers who want to observe the law as merely asking the age of customers who appear too young will put them in position to conduct a prosecution and to rid themselves of undesirable trade.

While the law has been in force two years there has never been a prosecution under it in the local courts but the fact that two saloon men were fined this morning for violations of the liquor law inspired one of the brewers to make an investigation of the statute with a view of preventing the sale of liquor to minors.

PARTY SPIRIT IS RAPIDLY WANING

SO DECLARES WILLIAM JENNINGS BRYAN IN SPEECH.

At Fort Scott, Kas., He Says Roosevelt Has Proved the Worth of Democratic Platforms.

Fort Scott, Kan., Oct. 9.—William J. Bryan made his first Kansas speech of this campaign here yesterday. He said in part:

"Unless I am very much mistaken we are approaching a time when we can consider public measures with less partisanship than we have before in generations. I can remember when I first entered politics that there was suchstrong feeling in regard to parties that it was almost impossible for a man belonging to any one party to find anything good in another party. This state has done much to break down the old feeling. President Roosevelt has done a good deal to convince the public that there is something good in the democratic platform. He had the courage to take up some of the reforms the democrats advocated before his party had advocated them.

"The president has done much good. I don't know what he might have done had he had an environment favorable to reform. He has done remarkable things for a man who had to fight his leaders all the way through. I don't know what he might have accomplished had he not been so handicapped."

On government ownership of railroads Mr. Bryan said that several years ago the democrats and populists were ridiculed for suggesting such a thing and that he himself had been denounced as dangerous because he had mentioned it as a means of relief from the oppression of the railroads.

"But we now find President Roosevelt daring to hold as a club over the railroads that idea in terms more radical than I suggested," he said.

In his last two messages to congress, Mr. Bryan said, President Roosevelt had declared with emphasis that if the railroads did not get out of politics and let the people run the government federal ownership of railroads would be inevitable. He had suggested government ownership only about six months ahead of Roosevelt and he was glad to be ahead of him in that line of reform.

WHAT WAS TAFT THINKING?

When He Sent for His Wife? Washington Wonders.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 9.—Washington is very curious to know what Secretaries Taft and Bacon were thinking when they sent for their wives to go to Cuba. Were they thinking they would spend the winter on the island, or did they merely desire to give them an excursion to the island at an interesting time? President Roosevelt was considerably astonished when informed that the Mesdames Taft and Bacon were going to Havana and that apparently the two secretaries were under the impression that they were due to spend a winter in the Cuban capital.

DECLINES BAILEY OIL SUIT AID.

Texas Attorney General Says Prosecution is in Good Shape.

Austin, Texas, Oct. 9.—A statement regarding the proposition of Senator J. W. Bailey to assist in representing the state in the matter of prosecuting the Waters-Pierce Oil company as part of the Standard Oil company and the correspondence in connection with the same was made public yesterday. It appears that Senator Bailey wrote a letter to the attorney general advising him that he would be glad to lend him what assistance he could in the way of developing facts in connection with the case, and to this proposition the attorney general replied that while he appreciates the interest manifested by the senator, he is able to handle the case with facts now confronting him, but if he needs any additional assistance or advice he will deem it a pleasure to call upon the senator.

HOME GONE; LOVED ONES DEAD.

Ohio Farmer Returns From Brief Trip and Is Met by Awful Sight.

Steubenville, O., Oct. 9.—His home destroyed by flames and the dead bodies of his aged father and two small children was the sight which met the eyes of Charles Zende, a farmer on McIntyre creek, when he returned from a short trip late yesterday. The cause of the fire is a mystery, the blaze breaking out during the absence of Mr. Zendo. The victims were found near a door leading out of the house and they had evidently been suffocated by the smoke. The aged man had apparently made a heroic effort to save the lives of his two grandchildren before he was overcome by the smoke.

JOHNSON HITS MIDWAY SCHOOL.

Cleveland Mayor Says University of Chicago Teaches Lies.

Cleveland, Oct. 9.—"The University of Chicago teaches lies," declared Mayor Tom L. Johnson yesterday in an interview with Professor Gates, of the theological faculty of the institution. "Every time I hear of the university," the mayor said, "I think of a man with a bald head and a wig, and can't help but believe that John D. Rockefeller, who pays half the institution's bills, must have something to say concerning the things taught there."

Professor Gates called on the mayor to get information about the street railway situation.

"If you think abreast of political and social conditions," said the mayor, "say what you think, then lose your jobs. I have no love for your University of Chicago. It teaches falsehoods."

MAID STORY TOO MUCH.

Young Norwegian Aristocrat Gives Editor a Good Beating.

Chicago, Oct. 9.—"This is one of the best jobs I ever did in my life," said Erling Bjornson, son of Norway's "grand old man," as he left the West Chicago avenue police station after his release on bail under charge of assaulting Anton B. Lange, a Norwegian editor here.

Gustav E. Reimers, son of a justice of the Norwegian supreme court and Bjornson's manager on a lecturing tour, heartily corroborated his principal's declaration. Both young men were freed on bonds signed by C. E. Faye.

Lange, they added, was guilty of not only one attack on them, but of a series. When he announced editorially in his paper, the Scandia, that Bjornson was "good for nothing" and Reimers "no better" they did not care. A later article, saying that they had attempted to attack a chambermaid in a Belgrade, Minn., hotel, was too much, however, and they resolved to punish the author. Both Bjornson and Reimers say the story was absolutely false.

Lange, who was beaten with a heavy cane in Bjornson's hands and pounded by Reimer's fists, is still in a west side hospital, though not dangerously hurt. He was able to appear in police court yesterday.

Miss Bickel, stenographer for H. G. Keegan, is confined to her home by illness.

Both Mr. Wulkup and Mr. Shorb are greatly pleased over the prospects for the new road, and declare that details are now working admirably toward the early beginning of construction operations.

TWO MEN KILLED IN STRIKE BATTLE

DESPERATE AND BLOODY CONFLICT IN ONTARIO.

Strikers and Police in Collision and Two Are Killed and Two Are Fatally Wounded.

Ottawa, Ont., Oct. 9.—In a strike battle at Buckingham, a few miles from this city, yesterday, two men were killed, two probably fatally wounded, nine seriously wounded, and a score or more slightly hurt.

The battle was fought between 400 striking employes of the McLaren Lumber company on one side and 100 imported strike breakers and a guard of fifty special detectives on the other. The fight started in an attempt to reopen the mills, which had been idle for some time because of the strike.

Troops from the Ottawa garrison were hurried to the scene and last night were patroling the streets.

The Dead.

The names of the killed and wounded follow:

BELANGER, THOMAS, strike leader, aged 35 years, shot twice in head.

THERRAULT, RANCOIS, striker, aged 80, Buckingham, shot in head and heart.

Fatally Wounded.

Picard, detective, aged 50, Montreal; shot in back and wounded on head by stone.

Warner, detective, aged 40, Montreal; shot in back and cut about head.

Seriously Injured.

Bryant, detective, Montreal; shot in head and wounded by stones.

Hamlin, Adelard, aged 28, Buckingham, striker; shot in left finger.

Kiernan, Frank, constable, Buckingham; shot in head.

Kiernan, James, aged 45, brother of Constable Kiernan; shot in right hand and badly bruised by stones.

Liatt, Albert, detective, Montreal; shot in head and cut back and head by stones.

Miner, Edward, aged 31, striker; shot in right hip.

Renaud, Isadore, aged 30, striker; shot in right arm.

Rochon, Eusebe, aged 28, non-union employe; shot in right hand.

One unidentified man.

Strike Began Month Ago.

The strike has been going on for nearly a month and Belanger, one of the victims, was recently made president of the newly formed Buckingham Union of Mill Employes. The men demand 2½ cents more per hour all around, or one hour less work per day, and the recognition of the union. The company refused the demands and the strike followed. The company thereupon began to import non-union men. A force of fifty special policemen was engaged to protect the strikebreakers.

Yesterday afternoon was fixed as the time for starting the mills with the non-union men.

The first work was attempted by fifty men who at 1 o'clock began to break a jam of logs at the falls, in the south end of the town.

Surrounded by the special police, who were in charge of Detectives Bryant and Picard, the men started to work.

Immediately the strikers, 300 in number, assembled at the foot of the hill and threatened to attack the police.

Vain Appeal for Peace.

President Belanger, of the union, and a striker named Charrette walked up the hill and asked that they be allowed to speak on behalf of the men. Messrs. McLaren and Mayor Vallilee, superintendent of the works, shouted back in the affirmative. Belanger appealed and argued for ten minutes for the strikers, declaring that he and his men would resort to violence unless the moving of the logs was stopped, and finally asking Mr. McLaren if he would not give in.

Mayor Vallilee said, in reply, that the company would never recognize the union, and that open shop would be declared after 6 o'clock. Belanger and Charrette then returned to the foot of the hill, gathering together the strikers, conferred, and then dashed up the hill, yelling and hurling stones.

Strikers Met With Volley.

They were met by a volley from the revolvers of the police. Undaunted, the strikers charged more desperately than ever. The police and employes kept up a fire and for fully twenty minutes the battle raged fiercely. Finally the strikers were repelled and doctors were called.

Two were found dead and many others injured. The victims were taken to the morgue and the injured to hospitals.

The strikers afterwards assembled below the hill and threatened another attack. They shouted for revenge for the death of their leaders, and messages were sent for help to surrounding towns.

MARRIAGE LICENSE.

FAIL TO REPAIR STREETS.

Richmond, Ind., Oct. 9.—Because water and gas companies have in many cases failed to repair streets after digging trenches, the board of public works on Saturday sent written proposals to the companies in question, setting forth the city's desire to make such street repairs under the direction of the superintendent of the street department, the cost to be taxed up against the companies. In the last ten years it is estimated that the city has spent $10,000 in going over work that these companies have done. In some instances parts of streets have been wholly ruined. Members of the city council will suggest that the next general assembly consider a remedy.

REWARD FOR A VETERAN.

Lafayette, Ind., Oct. 9.—Col. George A. Harrisson, a veteran of seven wars, former police superintendent and fire chief, who enjoyed the distinction of being both at the same time, has been appointed store keeper in the internal revenue service, with headquarters at Terre Haute, and will take up his new work in a week. The appointment came from Washington and was a direct result of Colonel Harrisson's military record being brought to the attention of the authorities. Colonel Harrisson was in the English army and saw service in India and Egypt before coming to this country.

Abe Hummel Should be in Jail Pending An Appeal Decision.

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 9.—The court of appeals, in a decision handed down today, decides that Attorney Abraham E. Hummel, under conviction for conspiracy in the Morse-Dodge case, was not entitled to be out on bail pending the determination by the court of an application for a certificate of reasonable doubt.

DRUGGIST MAKES KICK ON COMPANY

GRAND JURY RETURNS INDICTMENTS AS RESULT.

Express Company Must Answer for Not Delivering Package—The Court News.

A summons was issued from the circuit court today and served upon the local agent of the Pacific Express on an indictment returned by the last grand jury charging the company with failure to deliver a package to George A. Clapesattle, a druggist at 2514 Broadway.

This indictment was returned at the same time the others were but no service was secured under it until today.

The charge is founded on the law recently passed in Indiana requiring express companies to deliver matter to all parts of the corporate limits of towns of more than 2,500 population.

Several months ago an affidavit was filed against the Adams Express company on the same ground and after the matter had been appealed to the circuit court it was taken to the state courts on an appeal and there has been no decision.

Wants $5,000 for Injury.

John D. Gibson has brought a suit against Rhinesmith & Simonson demanding $5,000 damages for injuries alleged to have been inflicted by a rip saw.

The complaint states that Gibson was a teamster for the firm and that in December 1904, he was directed to operate a rip saw with which he was not familiar and that while he was thus engaged his hand was so badly lacerated that he cannot use it.

Wife Asks Decree.

Gertie Cress filed a suit for divorce against Wallie L. Cress in the circuit court today and charges among other things that he has provided nothing for their child since last July and that he refuses to provide for her.

He is a switchman on the Wabash and a restraining order was issued to prevent him from drawing his wages. She says that he has choked her, called her vile names, denied the paternity of their child and has given notice to merchants not to extend her credit. P. B. Colerick is her attorney.

Court Notes.

Roy Whitmore was placed on trial in Justice Tancey's court this afternoon on the charge of cutting a cow with a corn knife and injuring the animal so it had to be killed. The cow belonged to Nage Moses and the affidavit was filed by Humane Officer Schlaudroff.

George Nasser has filed suit against the Wabash Railroad company to recover $250 for goods which he claims were lost in transit.

WIFE NO. 1 NOT TO BE FOUND.

Conviction of Fletcher on Bigamy Charge Is Now Doubtful.

Jeffersonville, Ind., Oct. 9.—The absence of the first Mrs. Ralph Fletcher, who was Miss Mattie Harvey, prior to her marriage twenty-seven years ago, may prevent the conviction of Fletcher on the charge of bigamy, but the second Mrs. Fletcher, who was Miss Katie Kirk, of Ottisco, this county, and who brought about Fletcher's arrest, is determined that she will be free from the entangling matrimonial alliance and has filed suit in the Clark circuit court to have her marriage annulled on the ground that her husband had at that time, and has still, a legal wife living.

Mrs. Mattie Harvey Fletcher was living in Indianapolis at the time of Fletcher's preliminary hearing in the city court and she then came and testified against him. A summons for the Indianapolis wife to appear and testify in the circuit court next week, has been returned unserved, because she can not be found, and the conviction of Fletcher looks doubtful.

Fletcher married his second wife May 7, 1905, at her home in this county. The acquaintance began the previous fall, when Miss Kirk was traveling to the world's fair at St. Louis.

ATE TOADSTOOLS; RESULTS FATAL.

Anderson Boy and Girl Were the Victims of a Mistake.

Anderson, Ind., Oct. 9.—As a result of eating poisonous toadstools that were mistaken for edible mushrooms, Gordon, 11 years old, and Myrtle, 7 years old, children of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Earle, of this city, are dead, and the mother's recovery is in doubt. The boy died Sunday during the funeral of his sister.

Mrs. Earle had suffered from shock of her daughter's death in addition to the effect of poison, and when it was known that her son was dying she was carried from his room to another, and was in convulsions when Gordon Earle expired. Neighbors and her husband were attending the mother in her room while undertakers divided their work toward burying the daughter and preparing the body of her brother.

The treagedy in the Earle family has caused people of this city to put a ban on mushrooms and parents are warning their children against collecting or eating anything resembling mushrooms.

LEANCAVALLO WINS APPLAUSE.

Italian Composer Enthusiastically Received By New York Audience.

New York, Oct. 9.—Leancavallo, the Italian composer, made his first appearance in America last night, conducting the Scala orchestra in a program of his own compositions at Carnegie hall. The program included the principal numbers of his "Zza," the septotter from Medic, the duo from Chatterton and an aria from his "Boheme." "Pagliacci" and "Roland De Berlin," the latter composed for the emperor of Germany, were also offered by the conductor. Several soloists from La Scala theater, Milan, especially Rizzini, Cati, Ferrabini and Signora Pereya and Beint, were enthusiastically received. Leoncavallo will tour the United States.

THREE DROWN IN LAKE GALE.

Terrific Storm on Superior Wrecks a Barge on the Rocks.

Houghton, Mich., Oct. 9.—A terrific gale is raging on Lake Superior. The barge Pasadena, in tow of the steamer Gladstone, was blown on the rocks and is a total wreck. Three of her crew were drowned, while seven others got ashore after a hard battle with the surf.

A number of vessels had been sheltered in Lily Pond harbor, but some of these started out in the face of the storm and much anxiety is felt for their fate. The Pasadena was bound down with ore from Two Harbors. The Gladstone made the harbor safely and is now sheltered.

CAR VICTIM LONG LOST CHUM.

Physician Crawling Under Trolley Recognizes Old College Mate.

New York, Oct. 9.—After a separation since their college days, when they were classmates in Cornell Medical school, Dr. J. Lewis Amster and Dr. J. Mulholland were brought together again under strange circumstances Sunday afternoon, when Dr. Mulholland, dragging the victim of a trolley accident from under the car, recognized in the wounded man his college chum, of whom he had lost track for many years.

Dr. Mulholland, who lives at No. 2580 Marion avenue, was driving in his automobile when he noticed a crowd gathered about a car at Washington avenue and 189th street. Seeing that an accident had occurred, he stopped and offered his assistance. A man lay on the ground, wedged beneath the forward truck of the car, and Dr. Mulholland crawled under to administer an anaesthetic if he should find that to be necessary. As he reached the man's side he made the discovery that the injured man was his old friend Amster.

Dr. Amster, whose home is at No. 2092 Bathgate avenue, was driving in a buggy when the collision with the trolley occurred. The wheels did not pass over his body, but it was found necessary to summon a wrecking crew to extricate him. Although suffering greatly Dr. Amster coolly directed their efforts and kept up a conversation with his friend.

"Rather tough that our reunion should have to be brought about by an accident of this kind," he remarked.

At the Fordham hospital an examination showed that he had sustained three broken ribs, a broken shoulder and a broken leg. Dr. Mulholland consulted with the other physicians and operations were decided upon. His condition is critical.

GIRL, SEESAW, PRANK; DEAD.

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 9.—Fourteen-year-old Caroline Rothfus, a worker in a Camden mill, was catapulted from the end of a seesaw yesterday over a four-foot fence into a creek and drowned. While playing with a companion in the mill yard during the noon hour the latter playfully stepped off her end of the plank. The Rothfus girl was thrown high into the air and alighted in the creek, where she sank before aid could reach her.

ELOPES WEEK FROM WEDDING.

Sioux City, Ia., Oct. 9.—Within a week of the day announced for her marriage to William Cohn, of Chicago, Miss Esther Morgan eloped Monday night with Will Lennon, of St. Paul, a sweetheart of former days. A bellboy at the Chicago hotel where Miss Morgan lived with her guardian was employed to steal her clothes. They went to St. Paul where they were married yesterday. Miss Morgan is 19, pretty and wealthy.

A VETERAN OF THE SPANISH WAR

Expresses His Great Faith In Pe-ru-na.

Pe-ru-na Is a Tonic Especially Adapted to the Prevention and Relief of All Catarrhal Ailments Due to the Vicissitudes of Climate and Exposure Experienced by the Soldier.

COL. ARTHUR L. HAMILTON.

Gallant Porto Rican Soldier Gives Praise to Pe-ru-na.

Col. Arthur L. Hamilton, of the Seventh Ohio Volunteers, writes from 259 Goodale St., Columbus, O., as follows:

"Besides having the merits of Peruna fully demonstrated in my family, I have a number of friends who have taken it for catarrh and stomach trouble and all unite in praising it. As a remedy for catarrh, I can fully recommend it."

In a later letter to Dr. Hartman, Col. Hamilton writes:

"My command used your Peruna during our service in the Spanish-American War and I will say this, that if the War Department records are consulted, it will be found that the casualities in my regiment were less than in any other regiment of the Army Corps while at Camps Alger, Meade and Bushnell. The total deaths in my regiment, during the seven months' service, were seven out of a total number of 1400. I, of course, cannot help but think that Peruna certainly was a great benefit to my command."

In a recent letter, Col. Hamilton says:

"I have used Peruna myself and in my family for the last seven years. I have already written you about the good results I experienced with your remedy during the Spanish-American War."

An Old Soldier's Praise.

Mr. F. R. Cox, Center Ost, Pa., writes: "I was taken with hemorrhages of the stomach and had from one to three a year.

"The doctors said my stomach could not be cured, and it was only a question of how soon one of these spells would kill me, and I was given up several times, as they had no hopes for me.

"I finally wrote to you, and you said if it was not a cancer or a tumor, Peruna would cure me.

"I commenced taking Peruna right away, and have never had one of those spells since.

"I am an old soldier, one of Phil Sheridan's Rough Riders, and pretty nearly played out now, but I have a pretty good stomach again."

Assistant War Correspondent Recommends Pe-ru-na.

Mr. H. B. Manley, Assistant War Correspondent during the war in China, care "Black and White," 683 Craig St., Montreal, Canada, writes:

"When a man travels in extremely hot or cold climates, he realizes how valuable a friend he has if he carries a bottle of Peruna.

"I know of no article in my traveling outfit which I have learned to praise higher.

"If you are suffering with the extreme heat, Peruna restores you, or if you are afflicted with a cold, la grippe or bronchitis, Peruna restores you in a short time.

"Or if you suffer with sleeplessness or if your appetite is poor, again Peruna acts as a good, true friend and is the tonic needed.

"I have tried it for months and am only too glad to acknowledge it as a true, loyal stand-by in times of trouble. I do not hesitate to recommend it to all."

Able to Work At the Age of Seventy-Three Years.

I. T. Markland, a well-known businessman of Cincinnati, O., address R. R. No. 1, Mt. Washington, Ohio, writes:

"I find that in my case Peruna is a flesh builder. I am now at work every day, and have gained ten pounds. I took your Peruna according to directions and the result was more than I expected. I took no other medicine but Peruna, and it accomplished all. You told me in your first letter that you thought Peruna would cure me and it has. I am seventy-three years old and can attend to my business as usual."

In old age the mucous membranes become thickened and partly lose their function.

This leads to partial loss of hearing, smell and taste, as well as digestive disturbances.

Peruna corrects all this by its efficient operation on all the mucous membranes of the body.

One bottle will convince anyone. Or used and Peruna becomes a life-long stand-by with old and young.

For free medical advice, address Dr. S. B. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, O. All correspondence held strictly confidential.

Mr. Fred Dersewch, Ridgetop, Tenn., writes:

"We have been using Peruna for five years. I believe that it is the best medicine that I know of.

"I and my wife and our thirteen children do not need any doctor, since we use Peruna."

Pe-ru-na Contains No Narcotics.

One reason why Peruna has found permanent use in so many homes is that it contains no narcotic of any kind.

Peruna has no bad effect upon the system, and gradually eliminates catarrh by removing the cause of the catarrh.

SENT UP FOR LIFE ON PLEA OF GUILTY

JUDGE BRATTON PASSES SENTENCE ON BLACK OR KENDALL.

Man Who Murdered Garrett Woman Concludes Not to Withdraw Plea and Takes Doom Happily.

(Special to The Sentinel.)

Auburn, Ind., Oct. 9.—Despite the preparations of his attorneys to file a motion to withdraw his plea of "guilty" and substitute one of "not guilty," Edward Black, charged with the murder of Mattie Hopkins Cannon at Garrett in August last, came into the DeKalb circuit court Monday afternoon, declared his willingness to adhere to his plea of guilty and was sentenced to life imprisonment at Michigan City as a punishment for his crime.

The prisoner showed also no concern, and he was returned to jail in apparently a happier frame of mind than at any time since he killed the Cannon woman with a shotgun at his miserable home in Garrett and then clubbed her lifeless remains with the weapon. The sentence was apparently an immense relief to the strange character who, though known as Edward Black, has recently made a confession in which he declared that his name is in fact Abbott Alexander Kendall and revealed some heretofore unknown details of his pitiful life. His attorneys, Messrs. Moody and Sharpless, share with a large portion of the public the belief that Black is not altogether mentally responsible, and were actuated by this belief in their suggestion that Black's plea of guilty be withdraw and that he be tried by a jury.

Following his sentence Black in private conversation admitted that he had been guilty of other crimes, among them bigamy and larceny, and that he had already served two terms in prison at Fort Madison, Iowa, and at Jeffersonville, Mo., both for larceny. He was taken to Michigan City today to begin his life term.

MRS. MINNIE FISHER DEAD.

Sister of Prof. F. J. Reineke Expires in New York.

Mrs. Minnie Fisher, sister of Prof. F. J. Reineke, of this city, died Monday at her home in New York city from cancer at the age of fifty-nine years. Mrs. Fisher had been ill for some time, but her death was not anticipated at so early a date, and Prof. Reineke was preparing to leave for a visit with her when he received news of her death.

Prior to her marriage Mrs. Fisher was Miss Minnie Reineke, and she was born in Fort Wayne December 12, 1847. Her earlier life was spent in this city she will be well and most kindly remembered by a large number of friends here, while her elegant New York home was always open to her Fort Wayne friends and many of them visited there when in New York. Her first husband, Joseph Steiner, died five years ago, and two years ago she was united in marriage to J. Fisher. Surviving relatives include brothers and sisters as follows: Prof. F. J. Reineke, of this city; Mrs. Sophia Hickman, of Flint, Mich., and Mrs. Henry Schmidt, of Grand Rapids. There is also a half brother, George Schnuerlein, of Crown Point, Ind. Prof. Reineke will go to New York to attend the funeral services.

THE

PIANOLA PIANO

A Case Where Imitation Has Proven a Real Help.

WHEN the Pianola Piano was first announced there was a gasp in the Piano world—and a pause while other manufacturers considered what they should do to meet this hitherto unprecedented element of competition.

Competition in selling pianos is keen, more so than in most other lines of trade. When a piano manufacturer loses a sale to a rival he generally knows it. When his salesmen report that sales are going to a competitor in a steadily increasing stream, his anxiety is aroused.

"We must have an interior Player," said the other piano manufacturers in concert. Of course, they could not get the Pianola which the Aeolian Company owned. "Give us the next best Player, give us a good Player, give us any Player"—and there was forthwith a wild scramble.

Imitation of the Pianola Piano has helped its sales. The public is now accustomed to the idea of such an instrument. In a wonderfully short space of time the Pianola Piano has become standardized.

And just here is where the imitation helped the original: People wanted the best interior Player. "I must have the Pianola" meant just one answer—the Pianola Piano.

THE BEST $3.50 SHOES FOR MEN

Do you wear W. L. Douglas $3.50 shoes? If not, you should give them a trial, because they are the best shoes produced for the price; this is proved by my sales. I make and sell more men's $3.50 shoes than any other manufacturer in the world.

UNIVERSALLY SATISFACTORY.

"I have confined my purchases in shoes to the 'Douglas' for the past five or six years, and the only reason I have done so is because they have been universally satisfactory in fit, wear, and style."

A. H. PERFECT,
134-136 Columbia St.

If I could take you into my large factories at Brockton, Mass., and show you how carefully W. L. Douglas $3.50 shoes are made, you would then understand why they hold their shape, fit better, wear longer, and are of greater value than any other make.

BOYS' SHOES, $2.00 & $1.75. Just the same as my men's $3.50 shoes, the same leathers, for $2.00 and $1.75.

Wherever you live, you can obtain W. L. Douglas shoes. His name and price is stamped on the bottom, which protects you against high prices and inferior shoes. Take no substitute. Sold in W. L. Douglas exclusive shoe stores in the principal cities, and by the best shoe dealers everywhere.

Fast Color Eyelets used exclusively. Catalogue mailed free. W. L. Douglas, Brockton, Mass.

DON'T BE IMPOSED UPON.

Foley & Co., Chicago, originated Honey and Tar as a throat and lung remedy, and on account of the great merit and popularity of Foley's Honey and Tar many imitations are offered for the genuine. These worthless imitations have similar sounding names. Beware of them. The genuine Foley's Honey and Tar is in a yellow package. Ask for it and refuse any substitute. It is the best remedy for coughs and colds. Dreier & Bro.

WAS A VERY SICK BOY.

But Cured by Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

"When my boy was two years old he had a very severe attack of bowel complaint, but by the use of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy we brought him out all right," says Maggie Hickox, of Midland, Mich. This remedy can be depended upon in the most severe cases. Even cholera infantum is cured by it. Follow the plain printed directions and a cure is certain. For sale by all druggists.

Nearly all the bibles sent to Uganda are bound in tin in order to guard against the voracious African ants, which frequently completely devour the ordinary covers of books.

For backache and rheumatism use DeWitt's Kidney and Bladder Pills. Cleanse and purify the blood. A week's treatment for 25 cents. Sold by all druggists.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy Acts on Nature's Plan.

The most successful medicines are those that aid nature. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy acts on this plan. Take it when you have a cold and it will allay the cough, relieve the lungs, aid expectoration, open the secretions and aid nature in restoring the system to a healthy condition. Thousands have testified to its superior excellence. It counteracts any tendency of a cold to result in pneumonia. Price, 25 cents. Large size, 50 cents. For sale by all druggists.

On the day of the production of his new play, "The Bondman," Hall Caine said to an interviewer: "Think of me, worn with anxiety, rambling about the streets and praying for the fall of the curtain."

A CARD.

This is to certify that all druggists are authorized to refund your money if Foley's Honey and Tar fails to cure your cough or cold. It stops the cough, heals the lungs and prevents serious results from a cold. Cures la grippe cough and prevents pneumonia and consumption. Contains no opiates. Refuse substitutes. Dreier & Bro.

MACAULAY'S PROPHECY IN 1857.

In an interview in the Baltimore Sun Senator William Pinckney Whyte, of Maryland, refers to a remarkable prediction written by Thomas Babbington Macaulay, the great English historian and essayist, in 1857. Of this Senator Whyte says:

"Some have feared that a recent nomination in New York is a sort of stormy petrel, giving warning of calamity impending over the Empire state. It has been even suggested that it may be the precursor of the doom portrayed in the famous prediction of Lord Macaulay in a letter dated May 23, 1857.

"'The day will come,' he wrote, 'when, in the state of New York, a multitude of people, none of whom have had more than half a breakfast or expect to have more than half a dinner, will choose a legislature. Is it possible to doubt what sort of legislature will be chosen? On one side is a statesman preaching patience, respect for vested rights, strict observance of public faith. On the other is a demagogue ranting about the tyranny of capitalists and usurers and asking why anybody should be permitted to drink champagne and ride in a carriage when thousands of honest folk are in want of necessaries. Which of the two candidates is likely to be preferred by a workingman who hears his children cry for more bread? Either some Caesar or Napoleon will seize the reins of government with a strong hand or your republic will be as fearlessly plundered and laid waste by the barbarians in the twentieth century as the Roman empire was in the fifth, with this difference—that the Huns and vandals who ravaged the Roman empire came from without and that your Huns and vandals will have been engendered in your own country and by your own institutions.'

"The picture is, of course, of a vermilion color and highly overdrawn, and the occurrences it portrays could scarcely materialize in a dozen generations; but no thoughtful man can fail to see the dangerous departure from the teachings of the fathers by politicians seeking high political preferment in the political doctrines they maintain to be democratic and in the policies, absolutely pernicious in character, they recommend for adoption."

Saloonkeepers generally will protest with vehemence that they do not want the patronage of minors. Many of them are sincere in such protestations and use reasonable caution to protect themselves against violations of the law proscribing the sale of liquor to minors. Others pander distinctly to such unlawful trade. The saloonkeeper who wishes to observe the law can avail himself of the law's protection. The statutes provide for the punishment of minors who misrepresent their age in order to procure drinks at a bar and any saloonkeeper or bartender need only inquire of the purchaser who seems to be of minor age if he has reached his majority in order to fully protect himself. In respect to the law against selling to minors the authorities have need to be more vigilant and stringent both as regards the buying by and selling to boys. Vigorous prosecutions of both where the offense can be established would have a strong deterrent effect upon minors as well as upon saloonkeepers.

The provisions made by trades unions in Great Britain for old age pensions are more extensive and practical than may be generally believed. The Nineteenth Century notes the fact that there is doubtless a general public ignorance of what is being done for the aged by workingmen through their trade unions and other self-help organizations. The periodical referred to says: "Forty of the principal trade unions paid in 1904 no less a sum than £267,396 in superannuation benefit. The Amalgamated Society of Engineers itself is paying more than £100,000 a year to its aged members. All this is in addition to large expenditures on the unemployed, which again is no doubt greatly swelled by those who are made workless through old age. The Northumberland and Durham Miners' Permanent Relief Fund has for many years made provision for its aged members. In 1905 there were 4,591 on the fund, the total amount paid in superannuation for the year being £60,094."

Thomas Bentham, nominated by the democrats of the First Ohio district for congress to run against Nicholas Longworth, President Roosevelt's son-in-law, worked 20 of the 44 years of his life as a coal miner. He commenced in the Pennsylvania mines near Pittston as a breaker boy when 9 years old. He had practically no schooling until he was 29. He attended a normal school at Lebanon, O. He then went to Cincinnati and attended law school for two years. He has been practicing at the bar for ten years. Mr. Bentham has a considerable practice, and is a special counsel for one of the city boards at $2,100 a year. He is energetic and popular, and a fine speaker. It is believed that he will number among his supporters almost the entire local organized labor army here. He is married and has two children.

The proposal to make Grover Cleveland a United States Senator from New Jersey comes inopportunely. William R. Hearst has too many affairs of his own on hand just now to give the ex-president the attention that under normal conditions he would like to bestow.

OHIO TURNS OUT NEW PRODIGY.

Farmer Says He Grows Pumpkins That Tastes Like a Tomato.

Gallipolis, Ohio, Oct. 9.—The Pumpkintoon or the Tomnkin, whichever it may be called, is the latest addition to the flora of Ohio.

It is the invention of Edward Womeldorff, a young farmer. Late in the season he set out some climbing tomato plants close to a telephone pole. Near by were pumpkin vines. One of the tomato plants and one of the pumpkin vines amalgamated and the product of the confluence climbed the telegraph pole. The joint vine prolonged itself over the wires and the current of electricity pervaded it.

Vegetables developed in the course of time, but while each retained its outward form, each borrowed the characteristics of the other. The tomato tasted exactly like pumpkin and the pumpkin had the tomato flavor.

The introduction of the electric current from the telephone wires produced a curious result. At night the pumpkins glow with a yellow incandescence, while the tomatoes are of a passionate red shade. The illumination is soft, but penetrating. Womeldorff says this is a good feature, because the vine has plenty of light to work all night, and so grows twice as fast.

Iowa Swain Requests License, and Clerk Tells Him He Is Too Late.

Clinton, Iowa, Oct. 9.—The marriage of two Christine Michelsons on the same day almost brought one of them to grief. The two girls are no relation and are scarcely acquainted. The marriage license clerk granted the license to Anthon von Essen to marry Christine Michelson, and twenty minutes later Theodore Propers arrived and asked for a license to marry Christine Michelson.

"You are twenty minutes late," said the clerk. "Another fellow secured a license to marry her."

Propers looked abashed and after discussing what he should do for an hour finally decided to go and see the girl. He went, and of course, she did not know anything about Von Essen. Her father accompanied Propers back to the office and secured the license. The fact that two girls bore the same name was not discovered until the marriage returns were made by the ministers.

LABOR ENDORSES MUNICIPAL PLAN

WANTS ELECTRIC LIGHTING ELECTION TO CARRY.

Federation Passes Resolution Urging Voters to Approve Project at the Po'ls in November.

Renewing its fealty to municipal ownership ideas, the Fort Wayne Federation of Labor went on record Monday night declaring its purpose to aid in every legitimate way the movement for a favorable expression at the November election on the municipal electric lighting question in Fort Wayne, and urging voters to support it at the polls.

Conforming to the provisions of the new law, Mayor Hosey and the board of public works have called an election for expression on the matter at the polls on the date of the general election in November, and the resolutions adopted by the Federation of Labor are as follows:

Whereas, At the coming November election the people of this city are to cast their votes either in favor or against the erection of a municipal lighting plant, and,

Whereas, The trades and labor unions of this city have at all times advocated the erection of a municipal lighting plant, believing that if such a plant were erected and operated by the city the lighting of streets and eventually that of the homes of the citizens would not only be considerably cheapened but would also tend to procure far better and more satisfactory service than has been the case during the past, and,

Whereas, For years past an annual tax has been collected and set aside for the specific purpose of erecting such a municipal lighting plant, be it therefore

Resolved, That this Federation of Labor fully indorse the proposed erection of a municipal lighting plant and hereby express their sentiment as being in favor of such erection of the plant at the earliest possible time, and be it further

Resolved, That we lend our heartiest support towards carrying the vote in favor of such municipal lighting plant at the coming November election.

In the previous discussion of the matter by the union delegates, City Comptroller Schmidt stated that at the present time there was $121,411 in the hands of the city treasurer available for the erection of a municipal electric lighting plant, and that with this year's tax levy and the interest that has accumulated on the investment of the fund in street improvement bonds, there would be a total of about $140,000, a sum almost sufficient to install a municipal plant for the lighting of the streets, giving about 200 additional arc lights at a cost of about one-half the present price paid. From twelve to sixteen months would be required to construct the municipal plant, and it is understood to be the purpose of the administration to first increase the number of street lights before taking up commercial lighting.

ROOSEVELT MAY BE SENATOR.

President Declared to Be Willing to Serve in This Capacity After Term.

New York, Oct. 9.—The Washington Post printed a story yesterday to the effect that President Roosevelt might succeed Senator Platt in the United States senate. It said: "Theodore Roosevelt, United States senator from New York, to succeed Thomas C. Platt when the latter's term expires March 4, 1909. This may sound strange to many, but it is among the probabilities.

"President Roosevelt is sincere in his determination not to be again the candidate of his party for the presidency. He is unable to conceive of any conditions that would justify his reconsideration of his announcement that this is his last term in the white house. That the president would hold it an honor to represent his state in the United States senate can not be doubted, for he himself has said that he would be glad to serve his state there.

"The legislature that will choose Senator Platt's successor is to be elected in the fall of 1908, when presidential electors are voted for. The legislature will elect a United States senator in January, 1909, for the term beginning March 4 following. There is no reason, politically or legal, why President Roosevelt could not be chosen before the expiration of his term as president, and as he turns the executive office over to his successor assume the duties of a senator from New York.

"It is no secret that President Roosevelt will have the guiding hand in directing his party in the next national convention. His successor doubtless will be the man believed by the president to be best fitted for the continuance of the work he has mapped out and which may not be completed when he retires from office."

MANY HURT IN CLASS RUSH.

Freshmen Plant Flag Behind Intrenchments.

Cincinnati, Ohio, Oct. 9.—The annual flag rush between freshmen and sophomores at the University of Cincinnati yesterday was one of the fiercest contests ever waged between classmen at the institution. It raged from daybreak until 6 o'clock last evening. Scores of students in both classes sustained blackened eyes, contused noses, and torn clothing. Henry Hopkins, a second year man, received a knife wound that laid open his upper forearm.

The freshmen planted their flag last night in a ravine back of the university and raided a contractor's supply house to get tools to throw up intrenchments. There were seventy-five in their band.

During the day the sophomores, fifty-five strong, made 170 assaults on the fortifications of their rivals, but were unable to capture the trophy.

NEW BOOK IRRITATES KAISER.

Volume Shows Differences Between Prince Bismarck and Emperor.

Berlin, Oct. 9.—According to the Bohemia, a newspaper of Prague, Emperor William has telegraphed to Prince Alexander Von Hohenlohe at the Castle of Podjebrad informing him that his majesty regarded as "gross tactlessness" the action of the prince in causing the publication of the "recollections" of his father, the late Chancellor Von Hohenlohe, including extracts from the chancellor's diary referring to the differences between Prince Bismarck and the emperor which led to the former's retirement. The emperor added, according to the paper mentioned, that the publication of matters concerning the person of the sovereign ought not to have been made without his majesty's consent.

Says:

"Too much starch in our diet is a cause of no end of trouble."

"I believe that ill-balanced foods resulting in improper nourishment, are at the bottom of the causes leading up to tuberculosis."

We eat quantities of white bread, (starch) potatoes, (starch) pastry, (starch) wheat & oats, (starch) and wonder why we run down and have bowel troubles.

It's plain enough on thinking.

From too much starchy food the lower digestive machinery wearies and fails to digest it. (Starch indigestion.) Then the partly digested starch lying in the moist warm place in the bowels, naturally decays, gases arise and irritation of the bowels results, showing in poor nourishment and various ails. "What can you do?" Eat Grape-Nuts and Cream instead of bread, potatoes, pastry, wheat, oats, &c., &c., because in Grape-Nuts food the starchy parts of wheat and barley have in the process of manufacture, been transformed into a form of sugar perfectly digestible.

Starchy food is demanded by Nature to supply energy and warmth to the body, but it should be so prepared that the human system can make use of it without overtaxing the digestive machinery.

"Brown of Harvard."

Not great, but good and wholesome; full of spontaneous fun with a dash of pathos here and there to give color to the whole, "Brown of Harvard" won many friends last evening, for a fair-sized audience, braved the threatening weather and the distance to the Princess theater to see it. The success of the play depends so entirely upon the action that one sighs with relief in thinking it over to know that it is in the hands of a capable company. Henry Woodruff as Tom Brown wins all hearts. He is so joyous, so lovable, the type of man who wins friends and gains a hold on their heartstrings that stands the strain of adversity and suspicion.

After the performance Creighton Williams gave a supper party at which Miss Julia Taylor and Mr. Woodruff were guests of honor.

Among the things made clear by last nights performance at the Princess is that that theater should have its orchestra placed where it belongs, in front of the stage. The present arrangements for the orchestra place the musicians off to one side of the stage where they can hear little and see less. A confusing and disagreeable "mix" ocurred at the start of the college song in the second act and it was some time before musicians and singers on the stage got into time together. A musical performance would be apt to present many embarassments of the sort.

Pleus-Niedemeyer.

At 6 o'clock this morning at St. Peter's Catholic church occurred the marriage of Miss Elizabeth Niedemeyer and Mr. Herman Pleus. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Felden. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Anna Niedemeyer, and Mr. Peter Fox, of Arcola, was the groom's best man. The bride and her maid were daintily gowned in white and carried roses. After the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herport. Mr. and Mrs. Pleus will reside in Arcola.

KILLS FATHER TO SAVE MOTHER

Son Shoots Down Drunken Man Who Attempts to Brain Wife.

Marion, Ill., Oct. 9.—Clyde Boatwright, aged 22, yesterday afternoon shot and killed his father, Scott Boatwright, who was about to brain his wife with an ax. The killing followed a drunken attack on his son by Boatwright. Mrs. Boatwright had thrown herself between her husband and the young man.

The elder Boatwright was under the influence of liquor when he went home about 5 o'clock. He quarreled with his son and started for him with an ax. Young Boatwright ran into the house and locked the door, but his father battered it down and was about to attack his son, when Mrs. Boatwright caught his arm and pleaded with him.

Then Boatwright raised the ax to kill his wife, when his son shot him through the heart.

Young Boatwright has not been arrested. The coroner is investigating.

SEES OWN LIFE DRAMA IN PLAY.

Former Wife of Clay Clement at Performance by Her Rival.

Kansas City, Oct. 9.—There was a scene at the Willis Wood theater last night that was not on the printed program, and which few persons in the audience knew anything about. The divorced wife of Clay Clement sat in the box and saw the actor play as Sam Houston, the famous Texas leader. The person she watched the closest, however, was Kathleen Kerrigan, who is Mrs. Sam Houston in the play and Mrs. Clay Clement in real life. The actor and his leading woman were married Sept. 5, of this year.

In the first act the Houstons are separated and do not meet again. It was a strange coincidence that the former wife and leading woman of Clement should watch the woman who succeeded to his affections play a role so similar to her own experience.

REFERENDUM ON 3 CENT FARE.

Cleveland Council Decides to Submit Question to People.

Cleveland, O., Oct. 9.—The city council yesterday decided to submit to the people of Cleveland at a special election a referendum of the street railway question. The voters will be asked to decide whether the Cleveland electric railway shall have a renewal of its franchise at a rate of fare approximately 3½ cents or a straight 3 cent fare as offered by the Forest City railway company, the company backed by Mayor Johnson that is now building a line in this city. It was the original idea to have the matter decided at the coming fall election, but the secretary of state has said that such questions cannot be acted upon at that time.

Quaint Bonnets Modish for Small Girls' Wear

Dutch Models Shown in Fall Felts—Old Fashioned Styles Revived and Frame Young Faces Picturesquely and Effectively—Styles of Trimming.

Extremely fascinating are the new hats and bonnets for children's wear on view in the department stores and the shops catering to the sartorial needs of small people. Seemingly no previous exhibition has included such a variety of shapes and materials as those seen this season or offered such scope for indulging individual tastes.

For the little daughter of wealthy parents there is the most elaborate bonnet in a new odd shape, looking not unlike a close fitting Dutch cap which, as an after thought, has been crowned with a large flat hat, bent into most becoming curves, and the whole covered with the richest white panne velvet. Yards and yards of lace are quilled around the edge framing the face, into which nestle quaint little bunches of pale pink rosebuds. Handsome, wide, soft louisine ribbon trims the hat in immense bows and also forms the ties.

Bonnets for All Pocketbooks.

All this beauty may be purchased for a little less than $50, while for the mother who has only $5 to spend on her offspring's headwear there is a lovely little bonnet in heavy, handsome bengaline, ivory white and trimmed with lace and ribbon, which is really as pretty as the most exacting mother could desire and certainly practical. The price, too, is decidedly reasonable, considering material, style and workmanship.

Between these prices there are any number of models to choose from, all made of dainty materials, though white panne velvet would seem to be first favorite. The shapes appear to be larger than those of last year, except in the case of bonnets for very young babies, and for these the usual Dutch shapes in cosey looking chinchilla cloth, velvet and broadcloth are offered.. So far very little fur is seen as a trimming, although one little model in ivory bengaline has ruchings of lace held down with tiny fur heads, reminding one of the cold weather to come.

Long Nap Beaver Liked.

Advance styles in long nap beaver hats for larger girls are now ready, the soft, long white haired being particularly lovely; so handsome, indeed, are these that to trim with other than a simple bow of wide, soft ivory ribbon were like painting the lily.

For more particular wear there are beavers in gray, tan and brown, trimmed with plain and plaid ribbons, matching or contrasting with the hat it adorns, as well as soft French felts in every conceivable shade, with trimmings of ribbon or velvet, a jaunty quill giving style and character.

For school wear a hat of this description will give excellent service. The brim, however, should be of good quality, the cheaper grades having a tendency not only to catch dust more easily, but to retain it, no matter how often or how carefully brushed; consequently the hat soon becomes shabby looking. It will thus be seen that the outlay of an additional dollar at the time of purchasing will be a good investment, as the hat will probably then look well all through the winter.

Plaid ribbon is used a good deal this season as hat trimmings and is one of the most serviceable. Always smart looking, it has the additional merit of going farther than plain ribbon, and, beyond a gold buckle, perhaps, no other trimming is necessary to the success of the hat. A handsome bow tied at the counter with a short length for twisting around the crown can be arranged by any person who knows how to sew, the process being only the matter of a few minutes.

A Smart Chinchilla Coat.

Now that chinchilla will be very popular this year I should like to mention a most sumptuous looking garment I saw at a children's shop the other day. It was a long, loose model for a girl of perhaps twelve, fashioned from the thickest, softest chinchilla in a lovely shade of dove gray with collar and cuffs of richest, deepest red velvet. The description may sound comonplace, but its beauty lay in the lovely shades of both coat and trimming. Such a generally becoming coat, too, whether worn by a brunette beauty or a doll-like blonde.

Street Suits Suitable for Autumnal Weather

By A. T. Ashmore.

Whether one is to remain late in the country or return to town by the first part of October, a smart cloth suit is an absolute necessity, and there is no possible use in attempting to struggle along without such a costume. Unless the spring street suit was scarcely worn at all, which is far from likely to be the case, a dark tailor costume must be had, and even if last season's gown is still in fair condition there is little chance of it looking really well at this time. Many women, for the sake of economy, purchase their winter morning suits now and wear them without an interlining until cooler weather arrives. As this suit is only for the simplest sort of wear, the model selected should not be an elaborate one, and a rough material is generally better than a smooth cloth.

One pretty autumn suit recently seen was of striped cloth. This gown is essentially for walking, shopping or traveling, although perhaps especially suitable for the country. It is an exceedingly smart and attractive design, made up in a dark gray and white striped wool. The coat might be dubbed a Norfolk jacket of a 1906 model, with its bias pleats and wide belt of smooth kid or buckskin. The collar was of linen. The skirt was quite plain, but a good model, with flat center plait and wide bias band encircling.

Another exceptionally useful model showed a long, loose Redingote. This makes a capital wrap that can be worn with any kind of dress, for driving, automobiling, etc. The coat fitted loosely in back, but on the sides was shaped in to the figure. The long cape effect, falling down over back and front, was trimmed with motifs of passementerie. Instead of the elbow sleeves a full length cuff would make a more serviceable style of coat, the skirt in that case being cut a walking length, for while there is an inclination among the modistes and tailors to have all train skirts, still for a suit of this kind a short skirt is infinitely more appropriate, while there is no comparison as regards comfort and convenience. Too heavy plaid must not be chosen, for with the long coat thick material would be very clumsy. Soft, dull colors should also be selected, as a suit made up in glaring plaid is a real eyesore.

Extremely smart was another gown of dark blue serge. In this model the jacket was trimmed with flat bands of white cloth, the coat crossing and fastening over a little vest, silk, cloth or buckskin, as desired, finished with small gilt buttons. The skirt was an excellent model, for the box pleats that were stitched down flat over the hips added in possible breadth to the hips, and yet when opened out they fell with a pretty and graceful flare. This style of skirt is now very nearly as popular as the accordion and sunburst models.

Simple Methods by Which to Tell Pure Olive Oil

By Emma Paddock Telford.

Here are four simple tests by which you may judge of the purity of olive oil:—Color, taste, the effect of cold on it and the price.

Pure olive oil of good quality is never cheap. A first class imported article can not be purchased under eighty cents and frequently reaches the dollar mark per quart. California oil of good quality is even higher. When the price of a small bottle is proportionally much below this you may be sure it is adulterated with peanut or cotton seed oil. The color of the finest virgin oil—that is the first press grade made from olives hand picked from the trees and carefully selected—is pale green with an opalescent shimmer. If a deep green or yellow it is some other oil or has been artifically colored. The second, press oil, which is what we usually get here, has rather more body than the virgin oil, and often contains small particles of the fruit precipitated in a sediment. While this is not so pleasing to the eye it proves nothing against the purity of the oil. A deep yellow oil is mainly cottonseed.

The Italians distinguish oils as grasso and verde; some preferring the former and others the latter. By grasso they mean a heavy, fruity oil, from the second pressing, while verde or green is the light virgin oil. Pure olive oil tastes of the olive. If it is tasteless, it has been adulterated.

Oil adulterated with cottonseed, has a disagreeable taste, leaving an after suggestion in the mouth like lard. The test by cold is another way of distinguishing the pure oil from the adulterated. Fine, pure olive is easily affected by the cold, losing its brightness and turning cloudy. A simple test is to pour some of the oil in a small bottle and lay in a pan of cracked ice for two or three hours. If it remains clear and fluid it has been adulterated. If genuine, it will become separated into little white grains holding them apparently in solution. If the contents of the bottle are then placed in a warm spot, the cloudiness will disappear and the oil resume its brightness.

There is one thing to remember in buying olive oil; that is, it does not improve in the keeping like wine. Two years is the limit for even the best Tuscan oil. After this its sweetness and freshness become seriously impaired, while the inferior grades are noticeably tainted and rancid.

MEALS FOR TOMORROW

(Chicago Record-Herald.)

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 10, 1906.

—Breakfast.—
Osage Melons.
Crisp Salt Pork.
Hoe Cake. Strained Honey.
Rolls. Coffee.

—Luncheon.—
Caramelized Sweet Potatoes.
Steamed Brown Bread.
Baked Apples. Nut Cookies.
Tea.

—Dinner.—
Fruit Punch.
Roast Young Chicken. Deviled Tomatoes.
Riced Potatoes. Gravy.
Celery and Nut Salad.
Macaroon Pudding. Coffee.

Caramelized Sweet Potatoes—Boil one dozen small sweet potatoes in two quarts of hot water until tender. Peel and arrange in a shallow baking dish and sprinkle them with one teaspoon of salt and one-half teaspoon of cinnamon. Then pour over them a sauce made from one cup of hot water and one and one-half cups of brown sugar, and one tablespoon of butter; boil this ten minutes. After the sauce has been poured over the potatoes they should be put into a moderate oven and baked until nicely browned.

Macaroon Pudding—Soak one dozen macaroons ten minutes in sherry wine, grape or orange juice, and then remove them. Beat two eggs slightly and add five tablespoons sugar, a pinch of salt, one cup of milk and one cup of cream, one-fourth teaspoon almond extract and four finely powdered macaroons. Turn this mixture into a pudding dish, arrange the soaked macaroons on top, cover and bake thirty minutes in a hot oven.

How to Cut Skirts from Paper Patterns

(By Elizabeth Lee.)

The same care should be exercised when purchasing a skirt pattern as when buying for a waist, as, naturally—and I speak literally—figures vary quite as much below the waist line as above. According to standard rules, a woman should have a hip measure of about forty-four inches if her waist measures twenty-six inches, but this is so seldom the case that alterations are almost always necessary if one would produce a well fitting, well hanging skirt. If the buyer's proportions correspond, all well and good, there will be no trouble whatever, but under other conditions the hip measure should be the guide, as alterations at the waist line are by no means difficult, although it is much easier when the hip measure is larger in proportion than the waist measure as the gores can be basted together and the skirt tried on, when a second person will pin in each seam a little deeper than the seam allowance calls for, and the result will be generally satisfactory.

Fitting Women With Large Hips.

If, however, it is desired to fit a person whose waist is large in proportion to the hips, then it will be necessary to allow for this before cutting, making an increase on each seam from the line of the hip to the waist. How much this increase will be depends upon the number of gores and the additional inches required, not forgetting the shape of the figure to be fitted, because, while some women are round in form others may be flat both in front and at back, the hips prominent, or, again, the abdomen may be the prominent feature, the back displaying a corresponding flatness.

In increasing for the round figure, all that is necessary will be to add a very slight increase to edges of all gores from the hip line upward, any intelligent person being able to calculate just how much by finding the number of inches necessary, then dividing it by the number of gores. In the latter cases, the increase must of course be distributed where needed and not on each gore. For the woman of full abdomen and flat back, the front and side gores must not only show an increase in width, but should be cut longer, the front gore the longest of all. The back gore, as a rule, will require no alteration. Supposing the front width measures three inches longer than the back, then it should be slanted from the center front along the top of the side gores until they fit the back gore, the waist line being a sharp slant. This will prevent the skirt from standing out in a point in the front around the feet, than which there is nothing more unsightly. Then, of course, it stands to reason that in the case of the flat figure with large hips, the increase will come on those seams directly over the hips.

To Change Skirt Lines.

Again, the standard length measure for skirts is forty-two inches, and of course it can be readily seen that this length will not suit all, but that it will be necessary to lengthen in some cases and shorten in others. For the former each width should be cut straight across eleven inches below the waist line and the pieces taken apart as many inches as is necessary—two inches if the skirt is to be forty-four inches, and so on in proportion. After cutting lay the straight edges in a straight line, while if both edges are bias then be guided by the row of perforations.

To shorten the skirt lay a fold, downward like a tuck, at the same distance from the waist line as that directed for lengthening purposes, making it as wide or as narrow as suits the needs. It will be seen that there is a small space on the bias edge of the gore after the tuck is formed, which should be filled out when cutting the material, unless the wearer to be is quite slight, when the paper may be slanted off even.

Fitting a circular skirt after a pattern is a rather more difficult achievement, unless the figure answers the standard measures, especially when the waist is large in proportion to the hips. If only a slight decrease is necessary, then the cloth can be gathered to fit, and the material shrunk until it fits perfectly. If more than this is necessary, two or three tiny darts, set in lining first, then cutting the cloth, will result satisfactorily.

To Make Circular Skirt.

To make a circular skirt fit well when the waist measure is quite large in proportion to the hips, a whole lining will be required. The pattern will be cut in lining and pinned to the figure, being careful to have the center front at exactly the right point, then slashes are made from the waist line downward to the edge of the hips in about the same places as gore seams would come. Open these V's and pin the skirt to a tape placed around the waist, then remove the skirt and insert wedge-shaped pieces of lining in the slashings. When placed on the figure again, it will be seen that the skirt hangs in ugly folds, beginning at the end of the slashings. Pin these folds down like a pleated skirt until the set is good, and, if a stout woman is to be fitted, a pleat in the center front may be necessary. Now lay on a table flat, and cut the cloth, not removing the pleats, of course, and the result should be a well fitting, well setting skirt.

SOLID BREAD

We have ceased to worry about the appearance of our loaf of Perfection Bread in regard to size. We give good bread—that's the first consideration. We give good weight—that's sufficient.

It's a fallacy to think that people rather have bread puffed full of wind, just for the satisfaction of thinking they are getting a big loaf. Perfection Bread is raised just enough to make it cut and spread without crumbling. It makes a fresh, sweet, fine grain article of food—and at less expense, too, than you can bake your own bread. If you have been baking, give Perfection Bread a trial. Look for the label, "Perfection." Sold by all dealers.

RYAN LOSES IN DEATH RACE.

Financier Charters a Special Train, but Finds His Son Dead.

New York, Oct. 9—William K. Ryan, the eldest son of Thomas F. Ryan, the financier, died suddenly at his father's estate, Oak Ridge, near Lynchburg, Va., yesterday afternoon. News of the death was received here yesterday in telegrams.

In a vain effort to reach his dying son Thomas F Ryan chartered a special train at Philadelphia Sunday morning and had it driven at a record-breaking pace over the Pennsylvania road to Washington.

Finding that he had just missed a regular train, Mr. Ryan hired a coach and a locomotive of the highest power. Although the special lost nine minutes because the engineer drove too near an express ahead, the run from Broad street station to Washington, a distance of 137 miles, was made in 137 minutes elapsed time, or a net time of 128 minutes.

William K. Ryan was about 35 years old. His estate, which will amount, it is said, to several millions, goes to his widow and three sons, the youngest having been born in July of this year in Virginia.

Five years ago Mr. Ryan was quietly married to Lily Henry, a young wiodw who had been one of the four beautiful Bendurant girls of Louisville, Ky. He fitted up fine apartments for his bride in the Dakota at 1 Central Park West and there in September, 1902, their first child was born. While this child was still very young the father fell ill of pneumonia and came near dying. He finally recovered, but tuberculosis had set in. In the early spring of the following year Mr. Ryan was compelled through ill health to resign as treasurer and director of the New York Transportation company.

DOCTORS SAID HE COULD NOT LIVE.

Peter Fry, Woodruff, Pa., writes: "After doctoring for two years with the best physicians in Waynesburg, and still getting worse, the doctors advised me if I had any business to attend to I had better attend to it at once, as I could not possibly live another month, as there was no cure for me. Foley's Kidney Cure was recommended to me by a friend, and I immediately sent my son to the store for it, and after taking three bottles I began to get better and continued to improve until I was entirely well." Brunswick Leagues Open Season Under Favorable Conditions—Score.

In the opening games at the Brunswick bowling alleys last night the Pioneers got away with a lead of three straight games, winning from the Garlands without any trouble.

None of the bowlers were up to their usual form owing to lack of practice and Captain John Kelley captured high average with 178. Smith, however, got the high individual score without disturbing the 200-mark. There was a big crowd of enthusiastic bowlers present to watch the initial game and the organization opened the winter season under the most favorable circumstances. Many of the men are entirely new at the game and their scores are consequently low. Score in League No. 1:

WHAT JOY THEY BRING TO EVERY HOME

as with joyous hearts and smiling faces they romp and play—when in health—and how conducive to health the games in which they indulge, the outdoor life they enjoy, the cleanly, regular habits they should be taught to form and the wholesome diet of which they should partake. How tenderly their health should be preserved, not by constant medication, but by careful avoidance of every medicine of an injurious or objectionable nature, and if at any time a remedial agent is required, to assist nature, only those of known excellence should be used; remedies which are pure and wholesome and truly beneficial in effect, like the pleasant laxative remedy, Syrup of Figs, manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. Syrup of Figs has come into general favor in many millions of well informed families, whose estimate of its quality and excellence is based upon personal knowledge and use.

Syrup of Figs has also met with the approval of physicians generally, because they know it is wholesome, simple and gentle in its action. We inform all reputable physicians as to the medicinal principles of Syrup of Figs, obtained, by an original method, from certain plants known to them to act most beneficially and presented in an agreeable syrup in which the wholesome Californian blue figs are used to promote the pleasant taste; therefore it is not a secret remedy and hence we are free to refer to all well informed physicians, who do not approve of patent medicines and never favor indiscriminate self-medication.

Please to remember and teach your children also that the genuine Syrup of Figs always has the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—plainly printed on the front of every package and that it is for sale in bottles of one size only. If any dealer offers any other than the regular Fifty cent size, or having printed thereon the name of any other company, do not accept it. If you fail to get the genuine you will not get its beneficial effects. Every family should always have a bottle on hand, as it is equally beneficial for the parents and the children, whenever a laxative remedy is required.

STRANGE SUICIDE OF A YOUNG GIRL

SWALLOWED POISON IN PRESENCE OF HER SCHOOLMATES.

Michigan Girl of Thirteen, Tired of Life, Ends Existence in a Dramatic Manner.

Owosso, Mich., Oct. 9.—Declaring she was tired of living, Bessie Gerady, 12 years old, swallowed poison before twenty of her classmates yesterday and died in the schoolroom an hour later.

The child's tragic death occurred in the Martin school in Venice township, some miles from Owosso.

The little girl, with a score of her playmates, was standing at the pump in the school yard. She took a small bottle from her pocket, poured its contents into a tin cup partly filed with water, and drank it, exclaiming:

"There, I've taken poison. I am tired of living."

Dies in Schoolroom.

Then she ran into the schoolroom, where she repeated her declaration to the teacher, Miss Beulah Wilcox. A moment later she was taken violently ill. A physician was summoned but all his efforts to save the little girl's life were unavailing. In an hour she was dead.

She was partly conscious during her convulsions and resisted the doctor's efforts to save her life, repeating that she wanted to die.

The poison was nux vomica, a drug used in proper doses as a medicine by her father for stomach trouble. The bottle, labeled "poison," had been kept in a cupboard, and before starting for school the child had poured a quantity of the drug into a small perfumery bottle.

No Light on Mystery.

The mystery in the motive which impelled so bright and winsome a child to take her own life never will be solved.

Her playmates insist that several times before yesterday Bessie had declared she would kill herself. Two little girls who were the most with her say that this is not the first time Bessie had said she was tired of life—that about a month ago she told them she was going to take poison and kill herself. Nothing of this ever came to the ears of her parents.

One day last week, it is asserted, Bessie wrote a note to a druggist in Owosso, W. E. Collins, asking him to send her some arsenic and to have it directed so that it would not go to her home for fear her parents would find out about it. Then, because she had no stamp and could not ask for one without revealing her secret to her parents, she read the note to her playmates and tore it in bits.

Reads Morbid Love Stories?

It is believed by some that the child had taken the idea of suicide from trashy love stories which she had read secretly. Some of her playmates insist that the little girl was fond of reading such stories.

The parents deny this, saying that the girl, while bright and well up in her studies of the seventh grade, was not much of a reader, and hardly ever took up a book.

Miss Wilcox, the teacher, does not believe that reading had made the child morbid. She says the girl did well in school, but was not fond of reading. She questioned if the reading of novels had anything to do with the deed.

Home a Happy One.

Others have thought that perhaps the child's home life was unhappy, or that she had been punished at home for some slight disobedience.

The facts, however, do not bear out such a theory. The child left home at 8 o'clock yesterday morning as well as usual and in good spirits. She even took more pains than usual to be of service to her mother before leaving for school, a mile distant.

Mrs. Richard Gerady, Bessie's mother, said last evening:

"I have not the slightest idea why Bessie has done this. She never was happier, apparently, than when she left me this morning. She never has been ill except when she had the whooping cough some years ago.

"She was not an unruly child; in fact, she was the best behaved of our four. She usually had her own way. Being the youngest we regarded her the baby in spite of her 12 years. She never had to get up in the morning until she pleased.

"She was fond of her teacher and in the month Miss Wilcox has been in the school Bessie got along all right. They tell me Bessie said she wanted to die. I cannot believe it, because I cannot fathom her reason."

Had "Spring Medicine" Habit.

Miss Wilcox, the teacher, refuses to believe that the little girl knew that she was taking poison yesterday morning, in spite of the child's assertion. The teacher and some others incline to think that Bessie was the victim of the "doping" habit so prevalent with so many people. Bessie's father had bought a spring medicine for her and her sister some weeks ago and the girls were in the habit of going to the bottle once in awhile. They were not sick, but felt somewhat "run down." Then the little girl saw her father go to the nux vomica bottle occasionally, and the belief among certain ones is that she took medicine from the same bottle as her father did because she saw no dire results from his taking it and anticipated no bad results to herself.

Mr. Gerady and his wife are heartbroken over Bessie's death. She was the youngest of four children. Mr. Gerady is well-to-do and his children always have had more of the comforts and pleasures of life than usually fall to the lot of farmers' boys and girls.

RIVALS KEPT AWAY WITH SHOTS

Youth Who Visits Girl in Another Town Wounded for Temerity.

Kokomo, Ind., Oct. 9.—Because he went to the village of Hemlock last night to visit a young woman, Carl Vanderbert, aged 17, of Oakford, was shot as he was returning home and wounded seriously. The identity of his assailant is unknown. A feud between Hemlock and Oakford has existed for years, and young men of either town who call upon girls in the other village will be killed, the youths of both hamlets say. Three years ago two young men were killed and six wounded for similar reasons.

CATARRH

Do you hawk and spit in the morning?
Is the nose stopped up?
Is your hearing affected?
Are you losing your sense of taste?
Are you losing your sense of smell?
Are your eyes watery?
Have you pains in the head?
Do you snore?
Have you foul breath?
Have you a bad taste in the mouth?
Is there a dripping of matter into the throat?

These are all symptoms of catarrh in the head, and are serious unless attended to. No medicine can be of any benefit or prove effective unless it reaches the seat of the trouble. The parts affected by catarrh are the linings of the natural passages, and to cure these the medicine must reach them.

Quaker Herb Extract, a liquid preparation sold for years at all drug stores, acts directly on all parts of the mucous lining of the entire system, expels all disease germs and impurities from the body, thoroughly cleanses the stomach, liver and kidneys, and is used as a cure for rheumatism, indigestion, dyspepsia, pains in the back and sides, neuralgia, headaches, costiveness, etc.

This medicine has proven all claims made for it by the great Dunn.

Quaker Herb Extract is for sale by your local druggists.

A Lazy Liver

May be only a tired liver, or a starved liver. It would be a stupid as well as savage thing to beat a weary or starved man because he lagged in his work. So in treating the lagging, torpid liver it is a great mistake to lash it with strong drastic drugs. A torpid liver is but an indication of an ill-nourished, enfeebled body whose organs are weary with over work. Start with the stomach and allied organs of digestion and nutrition. Put them in working order and see how quickly your liver will become active. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has made many marvelous cures of "liver trouble", by its wonderful control of the organs of digestion and nutrition. It restores the normal activity of the stomach, increases the secretions of the blood-making glands, cleanses the system from poisonous accumulations, and so relieves the liver of the burdens imposed upon it by the defection of other organs.

If you have bitter or bad taste in the morning, poor or variable appetite, coated tongue, foul breath, constipated or irregular bowels, feel weak, easily tired, despondent, frequent headaches, pain or distress in "small of back," gnawing or distressed feeling in stomach, perhaps nausea, [illegible] or "risings" in throat after eating, and kindred symptoms of weak stomach and torpid liver, no medicine will relieve you more promptly or cure you more permanently than Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Perhaps only a part of the above symptoms will be present at one time and yet point to torpid liver or biliousness and weak stomach. Avoid all hot bread and biscuits, griddle cakes and other indigestible food and take the "Golden Medical Discovery" regularly and stick to its use until you are vigorous and strong.

The "Discovery" is non-secret, non-alcoholic, is a glyceric extract of native medicinal roots with a full list of its ingredients printed on each bottle-wrapper and attested under oath. Its ingredients are endorsed and extolled by the most eminent medical writers of the age and are recommended to cure the diseases for which it is advised.

Don't accept a substitute of unknown composition for this non-secret MEDICINE OF KNOWN COMPOSITION.

How Good Food may Turn to Poison.

DECAY is not digestion, you know, even when it takes place in the stomach.

Food decayed in the body after being eaten is as dangerous to health as food decayed before being eaten.

Food nourishes or poisons, just according to how long it remains in the Bowels undigested.

* * *

Most of the Digestion occurs in the thirty feet of intestines.

They are lined with a set of little mouths, that squeeze Digestive Juices into the Food eaten.

The Instestines are also lined with millions of little suction pumps, that draw the Nutriment from Food, as it passes them in going through.

But, when the Bowel-Muscles are weak, the Food moves too slowly to stimulate the little Gastric Mouths and there is no flow or too little flow of Digestive Juice, to change the food into nourishment.

Then, the food decays in the Bowels, and the little suction pumps draw Poison from the decayed Food, into the blood, instead of the Nutrition they should have drawn.

* * *

Now, Cascarets contain the only combination of drugs that Stimulates these Muscles of the Bowels and Intestines just as a Cold Bath, or open-air Exercise, stimulates a Lazy Man.

Cascarets therefore act like Exercise.

They produce the same sort of Natural result that a Six Mile walk in the country would produce without any injurious Chemical effect.

The Vest Pocket Cascaret Box is sold by all Druggists at Ten Cents.

Be sure you get the genuine, made only by the Sterling Remedy Company, and never sold in bulk. Every tablet stamped "CCC." 748

Northern Indiana News and Gossip

Charles L. Carter, a contractor at Kendallville, died suddenly Sunday evening from heart trouble.

Fifty-nine individuals, corporations or firms pay more than one-third of the total tax collected at Auburn.

According to the government register at Lake Maxinkuckee, the water is at the lowest stage known for a number of years.

Jonathan Hardman, 81 years of age and a pioneer of Huntington county, died Sunday evening at his home south of Huntington.

J. F. Morre, who is accused of defrauding Ray Dilgard, a furniture man at Auburn, by means of a bad check, has been arrested at Lima, O.

John W. Johnston, of Kosciusko county, has just located his sister, Mrs. Sarah A. Michaels, in Washington. They had been separated for forty-eight years.

James Woodworth, a prosperous farmer residing four miles south of Lagrange, committed suicide by hanging himself in the parlor of his home Sunday evening. No cause is assigned for the suicide.

It is said that as soon as the Fort Wayne power station is completed the Fort Wayne and Wabash Valley Traction company may make a proposition to sell street lighting to the city of Huntington.

While Christopher Garber, of Wabash, was pulling tacks from a carpet Monday, one of the tacks struck him in the right eye with such force as to puncture the chrystalline lens and destroy the sight of the eye.

Carl Maurer, 13 years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus Maurer, six miles east of Auburn, is in a very critical condition as the result of an injury to his back where he was struck by a baseball thrown while at play.

While her companion spoke to her as she was about to rise from her bed Monday morning after a healthful night's sleep, Mrs. Maria Tracy, of Huntington, dropped back upon her pillow dead. Mrs. Tracy was 83 years of age.

Mildred, the two-year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Lovell, of Bluffton, tumbled into a barrel of water Monday and came near death by drowning. The little one was unconscious when found, but after long effort the babe was rescusitated.

Bluffton was much alarmed Saturday over a deluge of new $20 gold certificates that seemed too good to be true, and many persons who had taken them in course of business believed for a time that they had been defrauded. The bills were of a pattern new to the Wells county capital and had been paid out by a pipe line company to its workmen. Banks quieted the popular fear by assuring the holders that the money was genuine.

Harry Upson, sent up for thirty days on a larceny charge, and Edward Sloan, awaiting admission to the Logansport asylum, escaped from jail at Warsaw Sunday night. Because of a broken electric light wire the jail was in darkness and Sheriff Mable opened a door in order to give the prisoners light enough to see to eat their supper. They took advantage of his kindness and sneaked out. Sloan was recaptured, but Upson is still at large.

MADE A PERMANENT STATION.

Sergt. R. C. Bard, in charge of the local army recruiting station, has received an order from the war department making Fort Wayne a permanent station. Sergeant Bard had fifteen applicants for enlistment this week, seven of whom were accepted. The successful men were: Charles A. Webster and William Skinner, of Payne, O.; Ora D. Ginther, of New Haven; Frank E. Staine, of this county; Myron T. Flynn, of Marion. They will be assigned to the coast artillery.

Wonderful.

"But surely you are the man I gave some pie to a fortnight ago?"

"Yes, lady. I thought p'r'aps you'd like to know I'm able to get about again."—Tatler.

One Too Many.

"You say you wouldn't like to get out?" exclaimed the prison visitor. "Why, I thought you were in for life."

"Oh, worse than that, ma'am," replied the convict. "I'm in for a double life. I've got two wives waiting outside."—Philadelphia Ledger.

HUMAN BLOOD MARKS.

A tale of horror was told by marks of human blood in the home of J. W. Williams, a well known merchant of Bac, Ky. He writes: "Twenty years ago I had severe hemorrhages of the lungs, and was near death when I began taking Dr. King's New Discovery. It completely cured me and I have remained well ever since." It cures Hemorrhages, Chronic Coughs, Settled Colds and Bronchitis, and is the only known cure for Weak Lungs. Every bottle guaranteed by Dreier & Bro., druggists. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

Piles

Cured Quickly and Painlessly—No Risk, No Danger.

A Free Trial Package to Convince Sent by Mail to All Who Write.

Common sense is just as necessary (even more so) in medicine as in business or the affairs of every day life. People are getting to know more than they used to. Not so long ago, it was the fashion to make all sorts of claims for a medicine, and wind up by asking the reader to go to a drug store and buy a bottle. People won't stand for that kind of thing now. They want proof—tangible proof. They want to try the remedy first and if they find it to be what is claimed they will be glad enough to go and buy it.

That is why we say to every person suffering from piles or any form of rectal disease, send us your name and we will gladly send you a free trial package. For we know what the result will be. After using the trial you will hurry to your nearest druggist and get a 50c box of Pyramid Pile Cure, now admitted by thousands to be one of the most wonderful reliefs and cures for Piles ever known.

"Please excuse my delay in writing to you sooner in regard to what your Pyramid Pile Cure has done for me. I consider it one of the finest medicines in the world for piles. I suffered untold misery for four months when my wife begged me to send for a 50c box. When it was half gone I knew I was better and it didn't take any begging to get me to send for a second box. I think I am about well now but if I feel any symptoms of a return I will order at once. I order it from the Pyramid Drug Co. to be sure of the cure. Tell all about this fine remedy for piles.

"And if there is anything in this letter you want to use do so. I received your letter a few days ago. Yours for a remedy like Pyramid Pile Cure. J. J. McElwee.

Honey Grove, Tex., R. R. 9, Box 29.

"P. S.—I only used two boxes and don't think I need any more. Piles of seven months' standing."

To get a free trial package send today, to the Pyramid Drug Co., 55 Pyramid Building, Marshall, Michigan. It will come by return mail and the results will both delight and astonish you.

Pain From a Burn Promptly Relieved by Chamberlain's Pain Balm.

A little child of Michael Strauss, of Vernon, Conn., was recently in great pain from a burn on the hand, and as cold applications only increased the inflammation, Mr. Strauss came to Mr. James N. Nichols, a local merchant, for something to stop the pain. Mr. Nichols says: "I advised him to use Chamberlain's Pain Balm, and the first application drew out the inflammation and gave immediate relief. I have used this liniment myself and recommend it very often for cuts, burns, strains and lame back, and have never known it to disappoint." For sale by all druggists.

"Pretty bad cold you had."
"Good, I call it. Stayed out of school three weeks."

"Now, Johnny, why did you giggle when you told a lie?"
"'Cause the world loves a cheerful liar."

"Boo! hoo! The truant officer has taken Willie and spoiled our elopement."

Major Crofoot, Grand Promoter

The Up to Date Frenzied Financier Lets His Laundress In on the Ground Floor.

[Copyright, 1906, by R. Douglas.]

MAJOR CROFOOT, grand promoter and up to date frenzied financier, sat with his feet on his office desk and a worried look on his face. It was the season for fishing, but gudgeons were scarce. When the door behind him softly opened he felt a chill go up his back. He had made a close study of the way a creditor enters an office, and he realized that the comer was one. He had already decided that it was a woman, and the chances were even up that it was one of his numerous landladies who had unearthed him when the person strode into view.

It was a woman, but not one of his landladies. It took him half a minute

"WERE YOU LOOKING FOR ANYBODY?"

as she stood there to recognize her as the laundress he had parted from three months previous. The parting had been a very quiet one. He had simply retired from that quarter of the city and killed two birds with one stone—landlady and laundress.

"So I have found you out?" said the laundress as she sat down on a broken backed chair and set her jaw.

"Can it be my dear laundress, Mrs. Hazleton?" exclaimed the major as he jumped up. "No. But it is. Excuse this emotion, my dear woman, but you take me off my feet. So you did not die?"

"Why should I die?"

"Because people who are hit by a three ton automobile and flung a hundred feet high generally die over it. When I was told by a policeman that you had been hit and taken to the hospital and the last reports from you showed that you had been unconscious for thirty hours I gave up all hopes. I felt almost as if a sister of mine was passing from earth away. Well, well, but how strangely things do turn out. Here you are, in the best of health and with a complexion that a princess might envy, and all the time I have thought of you as lying 'neath the willow."

"Sir, you owe me [illegible] up seventeen shirts," [illegible]d the woman, not in the least flattered by his words.

"It cannot be, Mrs. Hazleton—it cannot be. I never owned seventeen shirts at once in my life."

"Then it was doing up one shirt seventeen times, which amounts to the same thing. I was never struck by an auto. I never went to the hospital. No policeman ever held any conversation with you about me. You simply tried to bilk me. I have been looking for you for weeks. I have found you. I want my money."

"My dear, dear woman, do you know what a coincidence is?" asked the major as he walked about.

"You owe me for seventeen shirts, sir."

"And I sat here thinking of you as you entered that door. I was wondering if you had a tombstone at your grave. As I wondered the tears came to my eyes. In my days of poverty you were one of the few who trusted me. Instead of demanding cash down when I came for my shirt you wrapped it up and smiled on me. Many and many a time I vowed that"—

"You vowed that you would dead-beat me, and you did, but you'll pay now or there'll be a row."

"And when I got to thinking that your grave was unmarked I felt it my duty to order a tombstone for it. I should have got one with a lamb on top. It would have stated that you were virtuous, honest and always ironed all the wrinkles out. Not the equal of steam, perhaps, but better than a John Chinaman. That tombstone would have cost all of $200, Mrs. Hazleton, and the potted flowers on the grave would have cost $25 more. That's the kind of a man I am."

"Seventeen shirts, Major Crofoot, and I don't leave until I am paid."

"Why mix seventeen shirts with sentiment, my dear woman? However, let me say to you that I am glad you are here. The debt is one of honor and shall be discharged at once. Seventeen shirts at 8 cents apiece is $1.36. I could hand you a check for that amount and you would go away smiling, but am I any such man? Would that express the gratitude welling up in my bosom every time my thoughts have turned to you? Heaven forbid! I was on my uppers when you trusted me, I even believe you would have loaned me money in addition."

"Never in this world!" emphatically replied the laundress.

"You gave me a chance. You instilled hope and ambition where all was dark despair before. It was only after I heard of your death that fortune began to smile on me. She came at me with a broad grin on her face when she did come. Mrs. Hazleton, are you prepared to take the secretaryship of the Great American Canned Cabbage company at a salary of $30,000 a year?"

"No, sir. I'll take nothing but my money."

"There is a worldwide demand for canned cabbage. We put it up either raw or boiled. We use both white and pink cabbage. We have testimonials from presidents, kings and emperors as to what our goods are. Put up in twenty-five cent cans and a profit of 10 cents on every can. We are shipping 20,000 cans to India today. Lillian Russell is going to retire from the stage so as to have nothing to do but eat our cabbage. I shall let you in on the ground floor as far as stock is concerned. It is 90 today, but will double in two weeks. Let me show my gratitude by"—

"By paying this little bill," interrupted the laundress.

The major sat down at his desk and figured for a few seconds before saying:

"My dear woman, you are missing the golden opportunity of your life. The demand for our canned cabbage is something gigantic. As secretary all you would have to do would be to send out circulars to boarding houses and boom our goods to laundresses. Have you got a two dollar bill about you?"

"If I have it won't get into your hands."

"Two dollars handed me today will reserve you $10,000 worth of stock."

"I'll have none of it."

"Then the only way left to me to show my gratitude is to hand you a check for $50 and let you run across to the bank and cash it. Your full name is—is—what, please?"

"Eliza Jane Hazleton, sir."

"Ah, I remember now. There was never an Eliza Jane yet but what was a dear, good woman. Here, dear, take this. They may pay you a hundred at the bank by mistake. If they do so run right along with the money, and don't let your conscience trouble you. We are now square, and I trust that nothing more will ever happen to bring about a coldness between us. Farewell, old friend—farewell."

Mrs. Hazleton was yet on the stairs when the major clapped on his hat and left the building by another entrance. He was not therefore to hear the woman when she returned ten minutes later and knocked on his door and shouted:

"You old rascal, but the check is no good!"

"Madam," said the real estate man as he came out into the hall, "were you looking for anybody?"

"That Major Crofoot, sir. He's given me a bad check."

"Did he say that he would let you in on the ground floor?"

"He did, sir."

"Well, he's done it, and there is no kick coming to you. Please go away. I'm expecting a customer here every minute to buy a huckleberry farm, and you are making noise enough to scare half a dozen men away."

POPULAR ANGER INCREASES.

St. Johns, N. F., Oct. 9.—Popular anger against the modus vivendi arranged by the United States and the British governments relating to the New Foundland herring fisheries is growing. There is a general feeling that the compromise arrived at was a back down on the part of the British minister. Archbishop Howley, the Roman Catholic primate, Sunday at a parochial festival declared the modus vivendi a shameful betrayal of the colony's interests and advocated agitation throughout the colony against it.

ANOTHER GOULD FAMILY AT OUTS

MR. AND MRS. FRANK JAY GOULD MAY GO INTO DIVORCE COURT.

Family Takes a Hand and Patches Up a Truce That May Bring About a Reconciliation.

New York, Oct. 9.—Mrs. Frank Jay Gould, wife of the youngest son of Jay Gould, left Lyndhurst, the old family home of the Goulds at Irvington-on-the Hudson, the residence of Miss Helen Gould, yesterday and went to Hot Springs, Va., for an indefinite stay.

Frank Jay Gould has completed preparations for a tour around the world on his steam yacht, the Helenita, which is named after his wife, who was Miss Helen Margaret Kelly. He will sail soon, and his trip, according to present plans, will occupy many months. Mrs. Gould's visit to Miss Helen Gould has been of considerable length and it is understood has been terminated only after a reconciliation had been effected between Mrs. Gould and her husband.

Divorce Papers Destroyed.

Papers which were drawn up to be used in obtaining a legal separation of Mrs. Gould from her husband have been destroyed and no further action looking to a court review and judgment upon their differences will be taken, at least for the present.

Abandonment of these proceedings is the result of a council in which all the members of the Gould family took part. The united efforts of his brothers and sisters were brought to bear upon Frank Gould and his wife to heal the breach between them and to prevent a separation, at least so far as public action was concerned.

Chums from childhood and wedded when both were very young, the marriage of Frank J. Gould and Miss Kelly was generally regarded as a very happy one. They spent most of the earlier years of their married life on Mr. Gould's yacht, and neither seemed to care greatly for society. That differences had arisen between them was known only to their intimate friends, [illegible] very few, indeed, shared the secret of the decision to seek legal separation.

Doubt as to Future.

Before Mrs. Gould returns from the Virginia health resort, it is expected that the Helenita will have sailed on her long voyage. What will occur upon Mr. Gould's return a year or more hence none of his family is willing to predict, though all are gratified at their success in averting, if not ending, the danger of a final separation.

Mrs. Frank J. Gould is the object of much affection from her husband's family and is especially a friend of Miss Gould.

Mr. and Mrs. Gould have two children, daughters, one 4 and the other 2 years old. It is expected that she will take up her residence with them in the New York home of her husband when she returns from Hot Springs.

NOTICE.

As there seems to be some doubt about the matter, I wish to announce that I have accepted the nomination for judge of the circuit court on the republican ticket.

STOCKS AND BONDS.

The Day on Wall Street.

New York, Oct. 9.—Opening sales on Wall street showed gains generally, industrials and specialties holding conspicuous places on trading. Neglect of usually active stocks was shown by slowly receding prices. Pennsylvania rose 2 points. The general list sagged to below last night with dull trading, the downward movement of prices continuing especially for Reading and Amalgamated Copper. Wabash preferred went up 1½.

Day's Happenings in the Industrial World

GENERATOR BURNED OUT.

An Accident at Power Station Interrupts Street Travel.

For over an hour this forenoon cars on the city lines were practically out of service. One of the generators in the station on Clinton street burned out and the other generators were unable to furnish sufficient power to handle the equipment out on the various lines. As rapidly as possible a car from each line was taken out of service and in this way the company was able to run the remaining cars at a slow pace until 1 o'clock. At that hour repairs at the power station were completed and the regular schedule of service was resumed. When the accident ocurred there were a number of passengers on the cars en route to dinner and not being informed as to the difficulty, some of them were considerably annoyed by the delay.

ENGINEER DOTY PRESIDENT.

Popular Pennsylvania Employe Heads Y. M. C. A. Roster.

The Railroad Y. M. C. A., at its annual meeting last evening, elected Engineer R. E. Doty president of the board of directors, to succeed James M. McKay, who was elected vice president. R. H. Mauk was elected secretary and treasurer and S. F. Bowser, E. A. K. Hackett, W. D. Page, H. A. Philley, M. S. Willson and William Barden were chosen as the other members of the board. J. E. N. Dillon was re-elected chairman of the board of Railroad Y. M. C. A., Crawford Griswold vice chairman, H. A. Philley treasurer, and the old board of the railroad department was re-elected with two additional members, W. N. Barden and S. Lenfesty. Crawford Griswold, C. R. Colmey and R. E. Doty, representing the railroad department, and J. M. McKay, S. F. Bowser and John Jacobs, representing the city department, were elected a board of trustees. The report of General Secretary J. W. Burns showed that the association had 375 members and was in a prosperous condition and the report of Treasurer H. A. Philley showed the association out of debt and with a bank account of upwards of $2,000. Mr. Doty, the new president, has been long one of the most ardent workers in the association. He is an engineer in the employ of the Pennsylvania, where he has served at the throttle ever since 1871. He was previously a fireman on the road a number of years.

The meeting of the committee of arrangements for the state convention in November, which was to have taken place tonight, will probably be postponed until Friday night. State Secretary Stacey will, it is believed, be unable to reach the city tonight, on account of a previous engagement at South Bend, and if he fails to put in an appearance, the meeting will be postponed. The ministerial committee is composed of Rev. Frank M. Fox, of the Third Presbyterian church; J. F. Vichert, of the Baptist church, and E. W. Averill, of the Trinity church.

WILL BE BUSY THEN.

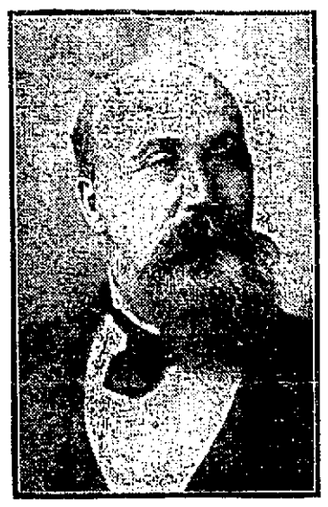
New Passenger Rate Will Make Work for Pennsylvania Agents.

John E. Ross and his assistants at the Pennsylvania ticket office are expecting a strenuous time with the office work November 1 and for a time thereafter. On that date the company's new rate goes into effect, as previously announced in these columns, and the price of every ticket sold will be different from the prices of today. From Pittsburg comes the announcement that the Baltimore and Ohio, the Wabash and the Pittsburg and Lake Erie Railroad companies have practically decided to issue a 1,000-mile transferable mileage book, and the new book will be placed on sale on November 1 at a flat rate of $20. Representatives of these lines at a meeting of the Central Passenger association in Chicago tomorrow will notify the association that the new books will be issued the first of the month. An unconfirmed report circulated yesterday had it that the Pittsburg and Lake Erie will endeavor to go one better than the Pennsylvania, by placing a $20 transferable book on sale which will be good on twenty or twenty-five different lines west of Pittsburg.

When the Pennsylvania reduced rates on the lines east of Pittsburg and Erie, the New York Central issued a transferable and interchangeable book, good on twenty-five different lines for a flat rate of $20.

NEW NAMES ON PAY ROLLS.

While the working force in the Pennsylvania shops is as large as it ever was, it is still inadequate to the demands and each department is looking for good men. Yesterday Foreman B. F. Sarver added a number of names to the list of workmen in the boiler shop, among the new ones being P. Denehy and L. R. Burkas, boilermakers; C. Burkas, R. Sherer and E. G. Morrisey, rivet heaters, and P. Fissel, H. V. Miller and J. A. Kollmeyer, helpers. Foreman H. T. Hogan of the machine shop, also took on some new men yesterday, among them being Machinist F. W. Glussenkamp, from the Western Gas works; P. G. Hohnhausen and C. W. Schirmeyer, helpers, recently at the Wabash shops, and H. J. Keiss, who comes from the farm. Charles F. Bishop and Oscar Leuenberger took positions in the car department. The blacksmith department is still in need of five or six good men. That department is now employing 143 men and this morning it was said that not a single one of the employes was absent from duty, which is a record that Foreman G. A. Szink is inclined to be proud of.



RICHARD E. DOTY,
The Newly Elected President of Railroad Y. M. C. A.

BLOWN FROM A TRAIN.

Alonzo Brownsburger, a passenger on a Pennsylvania train yesterday morning, was swept from the platform of a car by the wind as the train was making the turn at the Lake Erie and Western junction. The train was running at a high rate and Mr. Brownsburger struck the ground with considerable force, turning over two or three times after he struck. The accident was witnessed by one of the trainmen and the train stopped and the injured man was picked up. His wounds were dressed as soon as he reached the city. They consisted of a gash in the left shoulder, which required twelve stitches to close, a sprained hand and cut and bruises on the face. Mr. Brownsburger lives at the Ross house.

ONLY ONE CHANGE.

J. Slocum Succeeds Russell Sage In Wabash Directorate.

Toledo, Ohio, Oct. 9.—At the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Wabash railroad held here today the following directors were elected for one year: Thomas Hubbard, Edward Jeffery, Edgar Welles, John Terry, Winslow Pierce, Robert Galloway, George Gould, Sheldon Reynolds, William Shanders, Robert Clowry, Wells Blodgett, J. Slocum, Frederick Delano. These directors are now directors of the company except Mr. Slocum, who was elected to take the place on the board made vacant by the death of Russell Sage.

WILL INSTRUCT TRAINMEN.

Arrangements have been made by the Pennsylvania Railroad Y. M. C. A. for a series of lectures to trainmen, which will deal with the new Hepburn bill. Representatives of the railroad company in the various departments affected by the new rate law will deliver the lectures in the Broad street station in Philadelphia, and it was said yesterday that lectures of a similar character will be delivered at other points along that system later in the winter. These lectures deal chiefly with the freight department, and considerable attention is paid to the distribution of cars.

A CHECKER CLUB.

Pennsylvania Shopmen Will Organize New Society.

A movement is on foot at the Pennsylvania shops to organize a checker club, which will rent a room and hold regular meetings, similar in character to those of the Pennsylvania Social club, organized several years ago. J. E. Whyte, assistant tank shop foreman, is at the head of the movement and all inquiries concerning the matter should be directed to him. By the way, Mr. Whyte holds the championship as a checker player.

RESUMES FREIGHT TRAFFIC.

Beginning today the Toledo & Chicago Interurban Railroad company will run a freight and express car each way daily between this city and Auburn. When the road was started freight service was begun, but it was found impracticable to continue it after the sink hole near Garrett had developed. The car will leave Fort Wayne at noon, Mr. D. R. Fetters, the local representative of the company, will have charge of the business here.

DEATH OF A MANUFACTURER.

Fort Wayne friends of the family have been advised of the death of William Reehl, of Bucyrus, O., who was quite well known in manufacturing circles in this city. He was interested in the American Clay Working Machine company, whose establishment is one of the most important in that city. Vice President C. T. Strawbridge, of the Bass works, was a schoolmate of Mr. Reehl and the friendship then formed has been maintained since.

LAKE SHORE OFFICIALS HERE.

The party making the fall inspection of the Lake Shore road arrived in Fort Wayne this morning and left this afternoon. The party consists of D. C. Moon, assistant general manager; J. J. Bernet, general superintendent; S. W. Brown, assistant general superintendent; J. R. Hogan, superintendent Michigan division; M. L. Reynolds, superintendent Lansing division, and J. P. Murphy, general storekeeper. The party is traveling in two private cars and is being hauled over the road by engine 30, which has a cab built over the boiler for occupancy by inspection parties when desired.

GAVE MR. M'KIM A CHAIR.

A Number of the Friends of the Superintendent Surprise Him.

Twenty-five of the friends of Supt. J. B. McKim, of the Pennsylvania road, called at his office Saturday evening and presented him with a magnificent mahogany and leather easy chair and electric stand lamp. The presentation speech was made by A. G. Estry. After the presentation the party enjoyed Mr. McKim's hospitality for a brief time. The affair was gotten up quietly and Mr. McKim was taken completely by surprise.

INDUSTRIAL NOTES.

Machinist Louis Altevogt, of the Bass shops, is sick.

William Smart, Nickel Plate caller, is laying off a few days to fish.

Blacksmith Peter Huntine, of the Bass shops, is sick and off duty.

G. Lauer, fireman at the Pennsylvania power plant, is off duty on account of sickness.

Vice-President Ortman, of the Griffin Car Wheel company, of Chicago, is in the city this afternoon.

Homer Lackey and C. VanBuskirk have taken positions as brakemen on the Nickel Plate road.

The wife and son of Nickel Plate engineer J. W. Wells have gone to Chicago for a short visit.

Nickel Plate Engineers M. W. O'Brien and D. N. Grubb are laying off to attend to private business.

Engineer J. P. Shea, of the Pennsylvania, is suffering from an injury to one of his arms and is off duty.

J. W. Shaw and Arnold Lee are new men at the Indiana Road Machine works. They are machinists' helpers.

J. W. Walker, of Los Angeles, Cal., who was visiting R. J. Fisher, of the Bass works, left yesterday for his home.

Charles Fries and C. G. Worz, who had been sick, reported for work at the Pennsylvania smith shop this morning.

W. J. Koch, a painter at the Pennsylvania shops, has recovered from an illness which kept him from his work several days.

Nickel Plate Brakeman C. F. Hartwidge and Conductor T. Calvin have reported for duty after a short visit to out of town relatives.

J. H. Davis, who resigned a position at the Electric works yesterday, took a position as machinists' helper at the Wabash shops this morning.

The Wabash will take the Sunday excursion tickets to Toledo off the market after next Sunday. The last excursion will be on that day.

H. J. Kaiser, of the Pennsylvania car machine shop, had a foot bruised yesterday and will be off duty a few days as a result of the accident.

E. Teverbaugh, a boilermakers' helper, resigned a position at the Wabash shops this morning to take a position at the Paul Pulley works.

Division Superintendent S. K. Blair, of the Nickel Plate, left this morning on the inspection car with a special engine for the east. It is the usual fall inspection trip.

A stone crusher, consigned to the Massachusetts state farm, Ticuta Station, Mass., was among the shipments that left the Indiana Road Machine works this morning.

Machinist William Habel, who had an eye so badly injured a year ago that the ball was removed soon afterwards, resumed his duties at the Pennsylvania erecting shop this morning.

G. H. Clifford, general superintendent of the Northern Texas Traction company, was in the city today. He is on his way to attend the convention of the traction officials at Columbus, O.

Nickel Plate Conductor F. M. Werling and Brakeman A. B. Conn are off duty on account of sickness, and C. N. Rodgers, brakeman, is off on account of the serious illness of his father.

Foreman Ernest Dehne, of the Pennsylvania pattern shop, returned home yesterday. He had been visiting his daughter, Mrs. Lehman, at Norwood, Ohio, and his son, G. C. Dehne, at McKeesport, Pa.

Mr. and Mrs. John Deegan, of Wellsville, are in the city to attend the funeral of John Collins, the father of Mrs. Deegan. Mr. Deegan is foreman of the Pennsylvania blacksmith shop at Wellsville.

F. X. Loban is off duty on account of an injury and the following Pennsylvania shopmen are off duty on account of sickness: H. C. Hartman, Michael Sullivan, H. F. Geerken, L. B. Verweir and C. Milier.

T. W. Demarest and W. L. Wilt, superintendent and chief clerk respectively of the Pennsylvania motive power department, are cast on business which may keep them there nearly the entire week.

Machinist E. P. Hanley, of the Wabash shops, had his left foot injured yesterday by a driver box falling upon it. He will be off duty a few days. Arthur Kynaston, who was hurt last week, reported at that shop for duty this morning.

O. D. Shookman, who was called to Ohio last week to attend the funeral of his uncle, resumed work at the air brake department of the Pennsylvania shops this morning. J. E. Young, who had been sick, also reported for work at that shop this morning.

William Hamman, formerly watchman at the Broadway crossing of the Pennsylvania, and his wife are visiting friends in the city for a few days. They now reside in Warsaw, where Mr. Hamman has charge of a railway and street crossing.

Bellevue Gazette: "From Fort Wayne comes the news that the Nickel Plate is to again have a traveling engineer. The report has not been made official, although it is expected that the promotion of a Fort Wayne engineer to the above position will be made October 15."

Oliver Thompson, of San Francisco, who was here for the purpose of visiting relatives and purchasing furniture for a hotel, left yesterday for his home. Mr. Thompson was storekeeper at the east car shops several years before he went west to engage in the hotel business.

Word comes from Fostoria that J. J. Stevens, a Nickel Plate freight conductor attempted to put four hoboes off his train early this morning and by way of a refusal received a volley from a revolver in the hands of one of the tramps. No damage was done and detectives are looking for the party, who are supposed to have come to Fort Wayne.

A SINGULAR CONTINGENCY.

Lawsuit Hinges on Whether Drowning Is the Quicker Death.

Philadelphia, Oct. 9.—Whether a young man would die more quickly from a crushed skull than an old man from drowning is the point on which turns the disposition of the $100,000 estate of the late Dr. John M. Scott, of Philadelphia, who was killed on July 31 with his nephew, Dr. William J. Kram, a professor in a Montreal college, by being dashed over a cataract in the Ottawa river in Canada.

Walter M. Scott, of Chicago, a brother of Dr. Scott, is fighting Mary Kram, of Deux Rapids, Canada, a sister of Dr. Kram, for the estate, which consists principally of rare paintings. He will contend that Dr. Kram, to whom Dr. Scott willed all his belongings, was killed first, inasmuch as the young physician's head was crushed on the rocks.

On the other hand, as Dr. Scott's body was found twelve miles down the river, with the lungs full of water, it will be argued that his drowning was a slower death than that of Dr. Kram.

If drowning is decided the slower death, Walter Scott, as next of kin of Dr. Scott, may be given the estate. If not, Miss Kram, as the nearest relative of Dr. Kram, may win it.

ADAMS FORTUNE IN MILLIONS.

Will Left by Policy King Fails to Reveal Exact Wealth.

New York, Oct. 9.—Anywhere from $5,000,000 to $20,000,000 is believed to be the extent of the fortune left by "Al" Adams, the late "policy king." The affidavit which was filed for probate yesterday, however, mentions only $100,000 of personal property and $500,000 realty. The will itself is dated August 29, 1906. It is known that Adams was a three-fourths owner in the Karsch Brewing company, which has property in this city valued at not less than $4,000,000, and that he had several millions invested in gold mines at Guanajuato, Mexico. What this mining stock may be worth it is difficult to determine. The bulk of his property goes to his wife, four sons and two daughters.

USE BOAT TO KIDNAP GIRL.

Assailants Return Victim in Critical Condition.

Aurora, Ill., Oct. 9.—The Aurora police force, headed by Chief Frank Nichels with a posse of citizens, has been searching since Sunday for two Hungarians who assaulted Josephine Frank, 16-year-old daughter of Mrs. John Frank, Sunday afternoon. The assailants seized the girl and took her up the river in a rowboat.

The girl was taken from an outhouse in the rear of the yard on the river bank by two men and was not seen again until she was left on the front porch at 8:30 o'clock at night in a hysterical condition. Mrs. Frank in the evening heard a knock at the front door and found the girl covered with blood, lying on the steps.

Efforts are being made to conceal the facts and little can be learned of the girl's condition. Late Sunday afternoon one woman who came from her home and was questioned in regard to the girl's condition stated that there is little hope of her recovery.

The statement that she was taken away in a boat is verified by a neighbor, who stated that shortly after 2 o'clock in the afternoon she saw two men in a boat with a girl, but though little of it at the time. He said the men were Hungarians.

DEATH OF CATHOLIC PRIEST.

Father Bartholomew Weiff, Chaplain at St. Anthony's Home for Aged.

Lafayette, Ind., Oct. 9.—Father Bartholomew Weiff, chaplain of St. Anthony's Home for the Aged, one of the best known Catholic priests in this part of the state, died yesterday morning at St. Elizabeth's hospital, where he had been a patient for nearly a year. A complication of diseases caused his death. He was born in Bavaria, Germany, in 1854, and came to this country in his youth. He was ordained a priest in the Franciscan college at Louisville, Ky., twenty years ago. His first church was at Olipe, Kan., where he was stationed for eleven years. He was later in charge of the Catholic church at Batesville. Three years ago he was appointed chaplain at St. Anthony's Home. He has a brother and sister in Germany. He will be buried in this city.

FOR RENT OR SALE.

The large twelve room brick residence corner of Wayne and Harrison streets, known as the Mayer property. For particulars inquire at The Sentinel office. 9-tf.

RISK CONCERN MUST PAY.

San Francisco, Oct. 9.—The Trans-Atlantic Fire Insurance company loses in the first decision to be rendered in the superior courts regarding the liability of companies which have refused a dollar for dollar settlement. The company has not a single excuse in law for repudiating the claims of its policyholders, according to the decision rendered yesterday by Judge Carroll Cook.

MAY BE DEAD WITH IRVING IN ABBEY

ENGLISHMAN GIVES VOICE TO TRAGIC THOUGHT.

Thinks Young Man, Named Siddons, in Moment of Exaltation, Crept Into Tomb During Funeral.

London, Oct. 9.—A suggestion is made by Robert Ross that perhaps another person has been buried with Sir Henry Irving in Westminster abbey. Ross writes:

"A young actor of my acquaintance, who bore the honored name of Siddons, was invited to take part in the Irving funeral services. His stepfather was connected by marriage with the great actress, Mrs. Siddons, and he was proud of his physical resemblance to her, as shown in her portrait by Reynolds.

"Since the burial of Irving, Siddons never has been seen, though I saw him in the funeral cortege. All his friends remember the curious exaltation of his manner for a few days before the ceremony.

"I cannot help thinking that in a moment of enthusiasm, realizing that it would be his only chance of burial in the abbey, he took advantage of the bowed, unobservant heads during the prayer of committal, and crept beneath the pall into the great actor's tomb. I have been assured by the vergers that mysterious sounds were heard for some days after this great historical occasion.

"Distressed by the loss of my friend, I applied to the dean of Westminster and finally to the police authorities at Scotland yard. I need not say that I met sacerdotal indifference on one hand and callous officialism on the other."

Neither Scotland yard nor the dean of Westminster has any recollection of any such application as Ross' having been made.

CAN'T GET MAID; SUICIDE.

Servant Problem Drives New York Woman to Take Life.

New York, Oct. 9.—Mrs. Florence Unger, 46 years old, committed suicide yesterday during the absence of her husband and three children by inhaling illuminating gas. The only cause discernible is worry over the servant girl problem.

A woman Mrs. Unger had employed for many years recently left her. Since then she has not been able to secure one who, she thought, could fill the old servant's place. In addition Mrs. Unger had been suffering from stomach trouble. She left a note which read:

"Goodby. Tired and want rest. Find letter in red tin box."

Maurice Unger, the woman's husband, is a real estate dealer and, according to neighbors, well to do. The family lived in comfortable circumstances, but, according to others living in the same house, its home life has been unhappy.

Ever since her servant left Mrs. Unger had been despondent and greatly depressed over the household cares, which formerly had been borne by her veteran retainer. Finally Unger tried to get another, but failed.

When Unger went home yesterday he found the apartments filled with gas fumes. He made a hurried search and found the body of his wife on his daughter's bed. He summoned Dr. Jewell, and a policeman summoned Dr. Overton, of the J. Hood Wright hospital. The ambulance surgeon aided Dr. Jewell, but both physicians found the woman beyond aid.

COMPLETE CANAL BY CONTRACT.

Committee Will Issue a Public Statement in Few Days.

Washington, Oct. 9.—It has been finally decided that the Panama canal will be completed by contract. In a few days the committee will make public a statement setting forth its reasons for favoring the contract system and at that time a form of contract will also probably be published showing exactly the sort of document believed by the commissioners to be necessary for safeguarding the work. President Roosevelt is known to support the commission in its position that the work can be done more satisfactorily by contractors than by the government. He had a long conference with Chairman Shonts yesterday on the subject and the various arguments in favor of the contract system were discussed fully. This change will in no way affect the employment of Chinese labor.

PLAN NEW ATTACK ON CANNON.

Labor Men, if Beaten at Polls, Hope to Defeat Him for Speaker.

Washington, Oct. 9.—Republican and democratic politicians are interested in a report current here that the American Federation of Labor has decided to take a new tack in its fight to defeat Speaker Cannon. In addition to opposing him in his district and doing all it can to encompass his defeat at the polls, it is said the federation intends to go further and seek to defeat him as speaker in case he is returned to the next house. This is to be done, according to rumor, by getting the names of all republican congressional candidates who will not pledge themselves to oppose Mr. Cannon as speaker, and including them in the list of candidates who are not to receive the votes of organized labor.

INDICTS WOMAN FOR MURDER.

Grand Jury Reports in Case of Mrs. Lawson, Who Shot Husband.

Lafayette, Ind., Oct. 9.—Mrs. Alice Cooper Lawson was indicted yesterday for murder in the first degree by the grand jury of the September term of the circuit court which reported to Judge DeHority. Mrs. Lawson is now a prisoner in the county jail here. The crime was committed September 21, when she shot and killed her husband, Charles A. Lawson, in his saloon. It is likely the time for trial will be set next Monday.

Twelve other indictments were returned yesterday morning, seven of them being against Ulysses B. Kellogg, the Canadian land agent, who is accused of swindling a number of Lafayette speculators out of sums aggregating $10,000 by selling them fictitious lands in the Dominion. He is indicted for grand larceny and obtaining money under false pretenses.

RAILWAY SHOPMEN STRIKE.

Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 9.—Two hundred men employed in the Southern railway shops in this city laid down their tools yesterday and walked out in accordance with telegraphic instructions from President McConnell, of the machinists' union. The strike is general, covering the entire southern railway system. The men demand an increase of 25 cents a day.

FIREMEN ARE INJURED.

Evansville, Ind., Oct. 9.—While fighting a fire in the tenement district of this city yesterday, which caused a damage of $800, four firemen were injured. Captain James Fitzwilliams was fatally, Charles Cecil, and Charles Olden seriously, and John Algar slightly hurt.

SCHWAB SEES PRESIDENT.

Washington, Oct. 9.—Charles M. Schwab, of the Bethlehem Steel company, was one of President Roosevelt's callers yesterday. His call was brief and Mr. Schwab said it related to personal matters of which he was not at liberty to speak.

LIQUOR DEALERS FAIL TO APPEAR

WIEBKE AND HOCKEMEYER FINED IN THEIR ABSENCE.

Names Are Called and Their Bonds Forfeited—Two Plain Drunks in Court.

Harry Wiebke was fined $20 and costs in the city court this morning for selling liquor to minors and Henry Hockemeyer was touched up for $5 costs on the charge of selling liquor to minors and the bonds given for their appearance was forfeited.

Neither man was present when the cases were called, although the affidavits were filed a week ago and the warrants served upon them and notice given of the date of the hearing.

The affidavits grew out of the fact that a lad eighteen years old was found beastly drunk on the courthouse steps on Sunday, September 30, and arraigned in the city court next morning, where he said he and several younger companions had visited the two saloons. Hockemeyer sold them only soft drinks and his fine was made lighter.

Two Drunks Up.

When filling up jugs of liquor to be used at the bar in the Wayne hotel Thomas Tully took a drink or two on his own account and, in addition to losing his job he was up for drunkenness today. His case was continued indefinitely.

Charles Oliver was found dead drunk in an alley and as he stated he had never been arested before, adding that he had a wife and family at New Haven, he was let go.
